Mansfield Gives Qualified OK To Military Build-Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Senate majority leader who has opposed expansion of the war in Viet Nam, gave a qualified endorsement Saturday to the American military build-up in Thailand.

Mansfield said in an interview he had little official knowledge of U.S. military operations in the little country bordering Viet Nam. But he said he accepted as credible news reports that two new large military bases were under construction there.

"In view of the present conditions, as they actually exist, there probably is a need for these bases," he said.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, of which Mansfield is a member, starts closed hearings Tuesday on the U.S. role in Thailand.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has raised the issue that the American build-up might convert Thailand into "another Viet Nam." He said Congress ought to know "what we are getting into."

But Mansfield said he doubted inquiring senators, who will hear Asst. Secretary of State William P. Bundy as the first witness, would learn much that is new.

"I doubt that we will find out any more in the hearings than we already know from credible news reports," he said.

Mansfield said Thailand operations had been mentioned "in only a fragmentary way" in White House briefings on Viet Nam. He added that so far as he knew, Congress was informed about activities there only from what it read in the papers.

The majority leader said the chief factor behind the American military build-up seemed to be for "defense against the threat of Chinese subversion of northeast Thailand." He noted that this area had a large population of North Vietnamese.

Mansfield said he was not prepared to challenge published reports that the United States had 25,000 troops in Thailand and was building big bases at Sattahip, on the Gulf of Siam, and at Nam Phong.

Rusk To Confer With Ministers Before UN Opens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department announced Saturday that Secretary Dean Rusk will fly to New York Monday for a week of meetings with foreign ministers attending the opening of the U.N. General Assembly's fall session.

Rusk stated an important session Thursday with Soviet foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the first such high-level U.S.-Soviet parley this year.

Rusk wants to sound out the Russians on Viet Nam, on a treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons, and on a range of other items. Another potentially significant meeting is due with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville. Rusk hopes for further word on President Charles de Gaulle's Southeast Asian trip and on Paris' position toward the Atlantic alliance.

The French foreign affairs chief is expected to come to Washington early in October and see President Johnson as well as Rusk.

All told, aides anticipate that Rusk—starting with half a dozen appointments Monday—will wind up seeing individually or in groups nearly all of the approximately 90 foreign affairs leaders coming to the U.N. opening. The annual gathering of foreign ministers in New York has in fact become the most important feature of the U.N. General Assembly, in the opinion of senior State Department officials.

These officials said the U.N. Assembly also had value in letting small countries play an international role and as a safety valve for airing issues. But the prime benefit, they said, was the opportunity for influential foreign policy figures from around the world to discuss privately all kinds of international topics.

Thousands View Meteor Shower Over Midwest

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — A giant meteor broke up in a spectacular flash over northeastern Indiana on Saturday night, triggering thousands of worried telephone calls to police and news media.

Burning fragments fell in a farm field near the tiny town of Sweetser, where witnesses said they burned several minutes before flickering out.

The flaming fall was seen from Coldwater, Mich., to St. Louis, Mo., and as far east as Buffalo, N.Y.

A Federal Aviation Agency supervisor at Baer Field here said the dying meteor painted a red glow across the sky and fell with a trailing tail of flames.

One report said the fragments "were big as a house."

In Caro, Mich., a deputy sheriff said, "We've had reports from all over the area about small fires on the ground and over the lake and pieces and lights raining down."

"We've sent cars out and they've found a lot of small fires, but nothing serious," an FAA official at Kalamazoo, Mich., Bob Boylan, said the phenomenon "lit up the entire northeast sky like the early morning sun."

Gemini 11 Pilots Get Good Photos

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Vivid color pictures snapped by the Gemini 11 pilots from man's record altitude dramatically captured earth's curve from horizon-to-horizon bearing out their awed description: "Boy, it's really round!"

However, officials revealed Saturday that smudgy windows and exposure problems cut into the quality of most of the movie film Navy Cmdr. Charles (Pete) Conrad Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon Jr. took during their three historic days aloft.

Gemini 11 used a captured Agena rocket to soar to a lofty orbit ranging upwards to 851 miles Wednesday, farther from earth than any man has ever ventured. Still pictures taken from the high-flying outpost showed earth's smooth, sweeping curve clearer than on any other man-made photograph.

There were breathtaking pictures of Australia, the Indian Ocean, the Bay of Bengal, the Arabian Sea, the Red Sea, the Gulf of Aden, Ethiopia and Somali — all with amazing clarity despite Gemini 11's dirty windows.

Movies emerged as a problem area for the third consecutive time on a Gemini mission, though. Technicians processed over 1,000 feet of movies brought back when Gemini 11 splashed home Thursday, then a spokesman said: "We got a lot of very badly underexposed film that required a special soup (development) job. You've got to remember, though, it's very difficult to take pictures up there. And, remember, Pete had that stuff on his windows."

One brief color movie sequence did show with striking sharpness Gordon astride the nose of his spaceship as he tied Gemini 11 to an Agena rocket during his shortened 44-minute walk in space.

His companion, it showed, aptly described the scene when he barked to Gordon during last Tuesday's stroll: "Ride 'em, Cowboy!"

Officials said a second 80-foot roll of Gordon's excursion was so badly exposed it could not be printed. And, on a third, the camera, mounted on the spacecraft hatch, was aimed in the wrong direction, missing Gordon completely.

GRAHAM CANCELS TRIP TO SCOTLAND

LONDON (AP) — American Evangelist Billy Graham, who is in London for follow-up meetings of his summer greater London crusade, has canceled a trip to Scotland on medical advice.

Dr. T. W. Wilson said Graham began to feel ill before leaving New York last Wednesday.

"There is nothing very serious about it but it was decided to take medical tests in London," Dr. Wilson added.

"We canceled the Scottish trip rather than do it at the last moment in case the doctors advised him not to leave London for the time being."

The 47-year-old evangelist underwent a prostate operation last year. He saw a London specialist Friday and is to undergo an x-ray examination Tuesday.

CHRIS LAMMERS of Quincy was the winner in the lead-in class. She is two years old and is shown astride Silver, her favorite pony. The benefit horse show Saturday was sponsored by the Morgan County Saddle Club for the Pathway school. Trophies were donated by businesses and individuals for each class.

FBI Arrests 12 For Racial Plot

GRENADA, Miss. (AP) — The FBI Saturday arrested 12 white men accused of conspiring in the attacks on Negro children at newly desegregated schools.

They were taken to Oxford, 45 miles to the north, for arraignment before a U.S. commissioner and were released on $1,000 bond each.

U.S. Atty. H. M. Ray said the men were charged with conspiracy to violate the civil rights of the Negroes who were attacked Monday, when desegregated schools opened in Grenada.

The law makes it illegal to "injure, oppress, threaten or intimidate any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the Constitution or laws of the United States."

Maximum punishment would be 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

In Jackson, Roy K. Moore, head of the Mississippi office of the FBI, said a 13th man was being sought by agents. He was identified as a justice of the peace, James Richard Ayers.

One of the 12 arrested, Wilburn Ray Carroll, 24, is the son of Constable Grady Carroll who has been sentenced to four months in prison for contempt of court.

Constable Carroll has pleaded guilty to refusing to accept a federal court subpoena and slugging a lawyer who tried to serve it on him.

The FBI arrests came the day after a federal judge at Oxford made permanent his injunction ordering Grenada officials to protect Negro children from "savagery and senseless" attack by white men.

Judge Claude Clayton's decision came after two days of testimony by witnesses who said Grenada police took no action while white men beat the Negro youngsters with ax handles and chains.

A heavily armed force of highway patrolmen remained on guard in this northern Mississippi city of 8,000—scene of a long civil rights drive. White merchants have been under Negro boycott about a month.

The FBI identified those arrested as: Doyle Cleveland Vance, Grenada truck driver; Donald Bain, Grenada, factory worker; McBride Belk, Grenada, service station operator; Archie Larry Campbell, Grenada; William Bryant Flannigan, Grenada, garden nursery owner; John Silas Hodges, Grenada; Clyde Perry, Grenada, Sanitation Department worker; Wilbur Ray Carroll, Grenada, auto body shop owner; Jack M. Richardson, Grenada, smoked ham house operator; Robert Earl Shields, Grenada, service station manager; Grover Lee Vance, Duck Hill, auto mechanic; Virgil Vernon Vance, Grenada, laborer.

The arrests followed a U.S. Dist. Court order that Grenada officials protect Negro children from "savagery and senseless" attacks by white men.

Judge Claude Clayton issued the order Friday night, saying the violence Monday and Tuesday in Grenada, 45 miles to the south, was "the shame of all who occupy leadership, both official and civic, in the county and the city of Grenada."

The ruling came after two days of testimony in which witnesses had said that in many instances police had taken no action while white men beat Negro children with ax handles and chains outside the newly desegregated schools.

Failure by Grenada officials to obey the injunction would expose them to contempt of court action.

Judge Clayton emphasized the gravity of such action by sentencing Grenada Constable Grady Carroll to four months in prison for contempt.

TOP-SECRET ITEMS STREWN ON ROAD

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Classified material belonging to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration was scattered on a highway near here Saturday when a semitrailer truck overturned.

State and Montgomery County authorities imposed security measures at the scene in central Indiana while NASA officials flew from Cape Kennedy, Fla., to supervise reloading of the material.

The truck, en route from San Francisco to New Jersey, ran off Interstate 74 about three miles east of the interchange with U.S. 231, Sheriff Clarence Demore said.

Authorities said the driver, Jerry Dean Ader, 24, Mount Pleasant, N.J., may have fallen asleep. He and a passenger, Harold S. Walther, 34, San Gabriel, Calif., were injured.

Surrounded Marines Battle Way To Safety

U.S. Company Evades North Viet Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A company of U.S. Marines reported cut off and fighting hard against North Vietnamese regulars near the demilitarized zone made its way to safety as fighting slackened late Saturday, a U.S. military spokesman said Sunday.

The unit, which was not identified, suffered only light casualties, he said, and killed six enemy troops.

There was no word on the fate of another company of Marines also engaged in the fighting.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force jets met Communist MIGs Saturday in the skies over North Viet Nam for the second straight day.

The spokesman said one MIG fired at an F105 Thunderchief but failed to score any hits in an engagement northeast of Hanoi. American pilots sighted three more MIGs, but neither side fired, the spokesman said.

He said he had no reports of any U.S. planes being shot down Saturday. Hanoi's Viet Nam News Agency claimed four American planes were knocked down.

In other air action over North Viet Nam, carrier-based Navy bombers attacked a 58-car train and a railroad bridge at Ninh Binh. Incomplete pilot reports claimed damage to the bridge and its byways and destruction of at least three boxcars.

The Marine units fighting just south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam earlier had been identified as Bravo and Delta companies of the 4th Marine Regiment.

They were said to be outnumbered by about three to one by a battalion or more of North Vietnamese troops.

Chinese Troops Ordered To Halt Red Guard Acts

HONG KONG (AP) — Red Chinese army troops have moved into Canton to curb a violent group of youthful Red Guards reported to have mistreated the aged and infirm in the drive to force a new China, travelers from Communist China reported Saturday.

Signs from Peking, however, were that the purge of so-called rightists from the Chinese Communist party continued, with indications that new heads might roll from the top echelons.

Travelers from Canton reported that regular army troops had begun patrolling Canton's streets Wednesday night and early Thursday. Cantonese Red Guards had resisted efforts from Red Guards sent from Peking to hold down violence against persons accused of bourgeois habits and customs, the travelers said.

They added there had been clashes between the Canton Red Guards and those sent from Peking.

"The Peking Guards were much better disciplined and reasonable," one traveler said. "They tried to talk the Canton Guards out of using so much physical force and violence. But they failed. There was a lot of shouting around and quite a few fist fights between the opposing groups."

"Then the Peking group moved out, and the regular army soldiers began patrolling the streets."

The traveler and others said the army patrols apparently had come from Peking because Canton military leaders had kept hands off the Red Guards.

The Red Guards, compared by some to the Hitler youth in Germany before World War II, were formed to protect Chairman Mao Tze-tung and his leadership and to help carry out the great proletarian cultural revolution—a purge decreed by the Communist party Central Committee in Peking last month.

Leaders of that revolution ordered Saturday that the full force of the purge be brought to bear on "the handful of bourgeois rightists who have sneaked into the Communist party and are still clinging to power."

But the Marines had air and artillery support and a spokesman said, "They don't seem to be in any particular danger."

A command post of a unit of the 4th Marine Regiment came under mortar fire Saturday. The spokesman said the North Vietnamese lobbed six rounds into the command post. Marine casualties were light, he said.

Over-all in the fighting in Operation Prairie, 23 miles northwest of Quang Tri City, the Marines have reported killing 80 North Vietnamese while taking light casualties themselves.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported two companies of Vietnamese militiamen raided a Viet Cong base camp Saturday in southernmost An Xuyen Province and killed 18 Viet Cong. The militiamen took "very light" casualties, a spokesman said.

In air and ground war operations elsewhere: Officers disclosed that more than a million men were under arms on the allied side. They listed 1,051,000 — 705,000 in South Viet Nam's armed forces and 346,000 foreign servicemen. The U.S. roll totals 308,000.

In Moscow there was another Soviet-North Vietnamese meeting, its purpose and subject matter undefined. A Vietnamese-Soviet Friendship Society delegation headed by Nguyen Xien, vice chairman of the standing committee of Hanoi's National Assembly, talked with Fyodor K. Kulakov, a secretary of the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee.

See '67 Rematch On Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Winners and losers in the Senate struggle over President Johnson's open housing-civil rights bill agree that a rematch is likely next year.

At the moment, neither side is ready to forecast the outcome.

But both acknowledge that the current engagement, probably held Monday when a second bid to shut off debate and force action is expected to fall short of the two-thirds vote it needs.

If that happens, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has said he will reluctantly shelve the House-passed civil rights measure.

That means it would die with the end of the 89th Congress. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, whose opposition is the key factor in the anticipated rejection, and Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who tried to guide the bill to passage, both said they anticipated a new Johnson proposal on civil rights next year.

"Certainly there will be a new civil rights bill next year," Dirksen said.

Dirksen said he did not know what would be in such a bill but if it were like the current proposal, it would be rejected.

Hart, predicting that a ban on racial discrimination in housing one day would become government policy, said he could not forecast the prospects of a new civil rights proposal next year.

But he indicated its chances would be better if it came early

Doctors Separate Siamese Twins

TORONTO (AP) — Infant Siamese twin girls joined from the chest to the navel were successfully separated Saturday in a 6½-hour operation by two teams of Canadian doctors.

"The general situation is satisfactory," a medical bulletin said. "The children are awake and alert."

The doctors said they were "generally pleased" with the results of the surgery but added that because of the seriousness of the operation, the condition of the three-month-old girls, Crystal Ann and Cheryl Ann McGee, was critical. The operation was performed at Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children.

The major concern in the operation stemmed from the fact that each girl's heart protruded into the chest of the other.

Hospital director John T. Law said Crystal Ann's heart had been successfully placed in her chest and the incisions sewn up.

Pope To Ask Prayers For Peace In Viet

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI came home from vacation Saturday to tackle an intensive round of decision making, starting with Viet Nam and the giant question of contraception for Roman Catholics.

The first item is an encyclical to be issued Monday dedicating October as a month of special prayers by the world's half-billion Catholics for an end to the Viet Nam war. The Vatican, announcing it Saturday, said it would be a papal document "of notable importance." It is the fourth encyclical of his pontificate.

In the weeks ahead the pontiff also is expected to give a new ruling on birth control, think over the possibility of a new international treaty, spur church negotiations with East European Communist regimes, and issue more guidance for steering the controversy over the Vatican Council's church-renewal program.

The Pope, who will be 89 Sept. 26, came back here from two months at his Castel Gandolfo summer palace looking tanned and rested. Crowds cheered him in St. Peter's Square.

Pope Paul received an 800-page report — including a secret set of recommendations — from his Birth Control Commission three months ago. Its contents have occupied much of his attention since he went to Castel Gandolfo July 17 for a summer retreat he called "a period of work and meditation."

Some sources have said a majority on the 75-member commission had proposed new attitudes on contraception which would go far beyond the current church teaching allowing total abstinence or the rhythm system — abstaining from intercourse during a woman's fertile periods — as the sole means of birth control. The main problem now is whether to permit use of the contraceptive pill.

The Pope was said to have told a visitor as recently as early this month that he still had not yet come to a final decision.

NFO Members Want To Know Financial Status

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — Some 200 members and former leaders of the National Farmers Organization agreed Saturday at a special meeting to demand an accounting of the NFO's financial condition from its current officers.

Edmond Richter, of Verdale, Minn., and a spokesman for the faction, said the men are seeking "the first financial statement in terms of actual dollars and cents that members can understand instead of the usual percentage figures."

Richter, an unsuccessful candidate last year for a place on the NFO national board, said the organization's financial and membership status are not available to non-officers.

"Those figures are secrets kept by the national board," he said.

Richter said the dissident members also intend "to determine to what extent NFO goals have been reached, especially regarding the activation of master contracts." Bargaining for the terms of master contracts, which set prices between farmers and food processors for specific commodities, is done by NFO officers representing farmer members.

The inquiry, said Richter, is prompted by "an apparent dis-

Greenfield Board OKs Special Education Project

GREENFIELD — Recent action by the Greenfield Board of Education approves the participation of the school district in a cooperative plan involving several counties to provide a full range of special education services. During the last session of the state legislature, H. G. 1407 was passed making it mandatory for all public school districts to provide for all special education needs of the students of its district.

Only through a cooperative approach can services be provided to cover the full range of special education needs which include: speech handicapped, socially maladjusted, educable mentally handicapped, learning disorders, emotionally disturbed, physically handicapped (home and hospital), trainable mentally handicapped, physically handicapped, deaf, partially sighted, multiple handicapped and blind. According to available statistics, through the use of modern testing equipment and material over 100 students presently enrolled in Greenfield schools could benefit from special education.

The board also has approved participation in Title I, Public Law 88-10, the purpose of which is to provide a program to meet special education needs of children who are underachieving and are therefore educationally handicapped. Over $27,000 is available for use in the Greenfield district and will be made available for local program use following the approval of the Greenfield application for participation in the program.

In commenting on the implementation of the Title I program in Greenfield, District Superintendent John O. Burch pointed out that the most pressing educational needs of the children attending school in Greenfield would have to be determined first and the development of a program to meet these needs would follow.

According to available information, there are approximately 120 children in the Greenfield district who could qualify for the program which must be designed to function beyond the scope of the regular school program. This implies classes after the regular school day or on Saturday morning. The success of the program, once it has been approved, depends upon the cooperation of parents and the availability of certified teachers to meet program needs.

Gerald Heuman, sixth grade teacher, is serving as coordinator for the program.

Cass Judge Sets Date For Hearings

BEARDSTOWN — Associate Circuit Judge Fred W. Reither has set October 11 for the start of court proceedings in two cases delayed last week due to lack of counsel for the defendants.

Perry Swan, charged with reckless conduct, is free on $200 bail, and was given time to retain a lawyer, with his case set for Oct. 11. Swan was charged after John Brannan, 47, a farmer, was injured at the Beardstown Bowl.

Jack Shinnall will be defended by court-appointed attorney Milton McClure in connection with charges of theft. He is held following the disappearance of $179 in dimes, part of a collection owned by a former employer, Bill Blevy.

Shinnall was taken into custody in Kansas and returned here to face charges.

"STOP KILLING YOURSELF"Abdominal Support FOR LONGER LIFE

Why do widows outnumber widowers? To the traditional team of work and worry, long branded the guilty pair, weight has been so strongly linked by science that dieting, once a woman's pastime, has become a male preoccupation.

And now comes evidence that it isn't just the paunch, but the sag, that brings on the pallbearers—that the girdles that give the ladies their girlish figures may also be extending their lives.

The idea that control under shorts, tightening the abdominal muscles and expanding the chest, improve not merely appearance but health isn't exactly a new one. Long before modern drugs came on the market, doctors prescribed abdominal belts for men with heart ailments.

But new research, reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association, tends to show that the new drugs may be no more effective than the old-fashioned belt—or the modern control shorts. Scripps Institute scientists found that "application of the belt previous to exercise reduced or prevented the abnormal postexercise increase in the amplitude of the A-wave of the apex cardiogram," just as popularly-prescribed glyceryl trinitrate.

How do control shorts help the heart? One famed medical writer, Dr. F. J. Stedman, writes that it helps the circulation of the blood, and "thereby takes an unnecessary load off the heart. And when one multiplies this by the heartbeats which add up to a few billion in the normal lifetime, one can understand how a simple abdominal support might add years to a man's life."

Many doctors are suggesting the increasingly popular new types of men's control shorts to their patients, and finding back and breathing as well as circulation benefits. The most popular type, Mandate, "underwear that slims," meets the Medical Journal's prescription of a belt "tightly applied to the abdomen in such a manner that it does not disturb the patient's respiration or produce discomfort."

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Claire Gassman

Beverly Kaiser Becomes Bride In Indiana Rites

Miss Beverly Ann Kaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Kaiser, 238 West Chambers street, became the bride Saturday evening, September third, of Marvin Claire Gassman, in a ceremony performed at the Pines Bible church in Michigan City, Indiana.

The Reverend Robert Murphy performed the ceremony at a candlelight altar banked with ferns and palms.

The groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Gassman of Paris, Ohio, is a graduate of John Brown University and this fall will enter Faith Theological Seminary at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The bride's cousin, Miss Penny Kietzman of Indiana, was maid of honor. Mrs. Michael Thomas of Macomb, a sister of the bride, was bridesmatron and Miss Doreen Gassman, from Ohio, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Little Michelle Kraska, Springfield, Illinois and a niece of the bride, was flower-girl.

Wayne Gassman of Michigan City, Indiana, attended his brother as best man. Kenneth Roberts of Pennsylvania and Wayne Lash of Ohio, were the groomsmen. Alan and Herbert Heavener of Michigan City cousins of the groom, were the ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess styled dress of white moire fashioned with a chapel train. A headdress held her veil of illusion and she carried a cascade of white roses and pink rosebuds with ivy.

The bride's attendants were gowned alike in floor length gowns of ocean green embossed peau de soie with matching color bow headresses of net. Each carried a single long stemmed white camelia with pink center.

The little flower girl was also in a floor length frock of green eyelette over satin and carried a basket of flower petals.

The mother of the bride wore pastel blue brocade with navy accessories and the groom's mother was in a gold taffeta brocade. Both wore corsages of white camellias.

At a reception held in the church Fellowship Hall the following assisted, Mrs. Charles Kepple, Chicago; Miss Michelle Jasperson of Michigan, school friends of the bride and Miss Judy Kietzman of Michigan City.

After a wedding trip to New England the couple will reside in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The bride graduated from Jacksonville High School in 1964 and attended the John Brown University at Siloam Springs, Arkansas for a year and then the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

Among the special guests were the uncle and aunt of the bride, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Kietzman, missionaries home on furlough from service in Nigeria, Africa.

Omega Chapter Celebrates Its 30th Anniversary

In the gala setting of candles, yellow roses with black bows and golden Phi's Omega celebrated its 30th anniversary Monday evening, September 12th, at the Holiday Inn. Charter members of Omega Chapter #528 were invited and entertained by Omega's present members.

A special tribute was paid to Dorothea Hutchins, who was one of the founding members. Members and guests enjoyed a buffet dinner and then partook of a large Anniversary cake which was frosted with bittersweet chocolate and adorned with a Phi made of yellow icing surrounded by thirty candles.

Charter members attending were Dorothea Hutchins, Neta Briggs, Bernita Dodson, Esther Ingolia, Alvahlee McCarthy, Alpha Qui and Reta Staff Long who provided the surprise of the evening by her sudden and unexpected appearance. Photographs dating to 1936 were brought by Esther Ingolia and passed around for all to see. Much reminiscing was done with laughter and good humor the order of the evening. Esther also showed pictures of some of the Nu Phi Mu chapters she had successfully organized. Psychologist Convinced Minds Can Leave Bodies, Drift Away

By ROB WOOD

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A North Carolina State University psychologist is convinced the minds of many individuals can leave their bodies and drift away, uninhibited by physical barriers or distance.

The phenomenon is called astral (out-of-body) projection. Dr. E.E. Bernard, who is doing research on the phenomenon, said it is "like lying on a sofa, getting up and seeing your body still lying on the couch."

The mind, he said in an interview, may remain in the same room or be projected thousands of miles. Separation of mind and body may last from a few seconds to a few hours.

"These experiences definitely are not hallucinations," he said. Dr. Bernard, 36, said he had uncovered one case where an individual experienced astral projection while sitting at a desk. The mind was projected to a distant city the person had never visited, he said. After the experience, the individual described in detail a street, an office building and the persons he saw.

Dr. Bernard said he investigated and found the street, the building and the people.

Dr. Bernard said his research is not aimed at proving or disproving astral projection because, "I am convinced it is a legitimate phenomenon. In fact I have experienced astral projection."

His first step is to collect data from persons who claim to have experienced out-of-body projection. Dr. Bernard claims he has uncovered several cases of individuals who have experienced astral projection once or twice and others he called "old pros" who "can turn this on and off and control the destination of their minds."

Those who experience out-of-body projection once or twice, Dr. Bernard said, "are afraid and worried."

"One individual thought death had called and this person was watching what he thought to be his own dead body. It was not. 'Many others,' he added, 'are worried they are losing their minds and refuse to tell anyone in fear they will be committed.'"

He emphasizes that evidence he has gathered indicates that mind projection causes no harm to the individual. "Our objective," he said, "is to find how to produce the phenomenon, how to control it and how to put it to our most beneficial use."

Hal Boyle is on vacation.

Greene Board Authorizes New Appropriations

CARROLLTON — The members of the Greene County board of supervisors passed a resolution approving an appropriation ordinance in the total sum of $610,195.00.

Of this amount $199,970 will be used in the general county fund; $29,600.00 for county of Municipal Retirement; $40,625.00 Tuberculosis; $219,000.00 for county highway; $80,000.00 for county bridge aid and $40,000.00 for federal aid matching fund.

The board also discussed the parking situation on the main street in Kane which is a county owned street and planned a change in parking.

In the future cars will park diagonally on the east side of the main street and parallel on the west side of the street.

Resolutions were also passed for the construction of two culverts in Hillview at a cost of $1,200 and a culvert in Bluffdale township at a cost of $2,000.

Mrs. Warren Cook of Greenfield was reemployed at county tuberculosis nurse and Veri Owens of Carrollton was reemployed as Greene County Supervisor of Assessments for a four year term.

The petit jury list was approved for the year as were the annual road and bridge claims. Agree On Square.

As has been previously announced the members of the Board voted to cooperate with the city of Carrollton in blacktopping the city square with the county to pay their proportionate share. The county will blacktop 34 ft. around the square which they own and the original estimated cost was $8000 with the total cost of the project estimated at $24,000. It is doubtful whether any work will be done in regard to blacktopping before spring as the weather is beginning to get too cold for such a project. The county board also planned to blacktop a greater area of the court house lawn to be used for parking and to construct new concrete walks on the court house lawn replacing the present ones.

JUNIOR PARENTAL SOCIETY TO MARK 25th ANNIVERSARY

PITTSFIELD — The Junior Parental Society will hold a tea at the Pittsfield Community Center from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon on September 18th, in celebration of their 25th anniversary as an organization.

Twelve ladies met at the home of Mrs. Aileen Ellis on Sept. 18th 1941, and organized the Junior Parentals of Pittsfield. The first officers were Paye Foster, president; Aileen Ellis, vice president; Elizabeth Fudge, secretary-treasurer. The programs were based on child care articles from Parents Magazine, and outside speakers. In 1946 they sponsored a home nursing course.

The big project of 1947-48 was to raise money to help support a permanent kindergarten in connection with the public school system. Through the society's untiring efforts the support is still given to the kindergarten.

A group of members of the Junior Parental Society canvassed the town for prospective pupils and reported 150 signers of the petition and presented it to the school board. A cookie party was begun and still continues each Friday for both kindergartens, with cookies being donated by society members. Many items of equipment have been purchased for the kindergarten through the years, and many donations have been made for the support of worthwhile civic programs.

The First Step Nursery School was started in February 1964 and the Oral Polio Vaccine program was also started that year which the Society helped sponsor.

After a Junior Parental survey of Pike County to find out where the underprivileged children were located and how many there were, the group conducted the Head Start Child Development Program this past summer, which was considered a success.

Officers of Junior Parentals are: Mrs. Sara Jo Plattner, president; Mrs. Dee Ricker, vice president; Mrs. Doris Mixer, secretary; and Mrs. Marilyn Smith, treasurer.

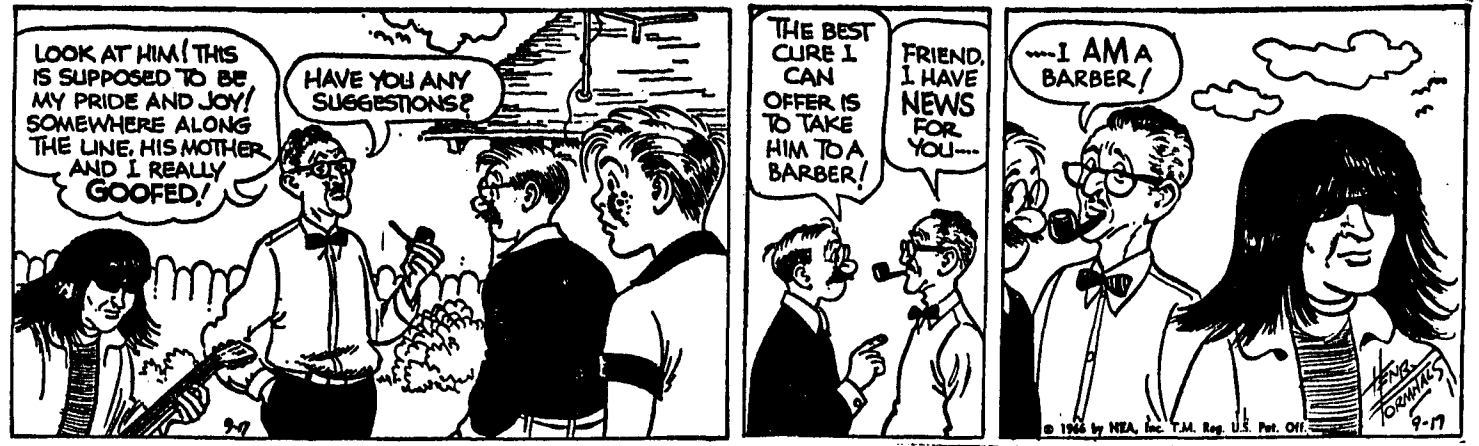

All past and present members of the organization are cordially invited to attend the tea.

Meteors

In Chicago, the chief meteorologist at the Adler Planetarium described the incident as a bolide or exploding meteor.

Pieces of the meteor fell on the Wayne Glasburn farm near Sweetser. A number of smoldering chunks were within 20 feet of each other, eyewitnesses reported. They were described as about 1 1/2 feet in circumference.

A commercial airlines pilot flying from Cleveland to Chicago reported seeing the falling fireball about 40 miles east of Toledo, Ohio.

In Canada, the provincial police reported a piece of the meteor fell to the ground near Huntsville, Ont., about 100 miles east of Toronto.

In Buffalo, a flaming object lit up the skies over wide areas of New York State and police have reported that it may have fallen into Lake Erie.

However, a spokesman for the U.S. Air Force at Hancock Field in Syracuse, N.Y., said tracking equipment recorded it as continuing to travel past Ohio.

Over northern Ohio, the light of the meteor was so bright, several persons, said, it turned the evening sky as light as day.

One woman told Norwalk radio WKLR her children were so scared by the bright light they "came in the house crying."

A Cleveland area man telephoned radio Lakeland and reported that he saw the meteor hit in Lake Erie just north of his house.

At Cleveland Hopkins Airport, control tower operators said the meteor was seen first as a bluish-green light. As it descended, growing brighter, it turned orange, then bright yellow as it burned itself out.

Koreans Commit Mutiny, Ask For Political Asylum

TOKYO (AP) — Four North Korean fishermen reported Saturday they mutinied aboard their Communist fishing boat in the Yellow Sea, killed seven crew members, locked nine others in a cabin and sailed to southern Japan to seek political asylum.

The crew members killed actually were assigned to the 146-ton Pyong Sin Jong by North Korea's Communist party to keep an eye out for possible defections. Japanese authorities at one point identified the victims as military guards but later said the defectors listed them as the skipper, radio operator, operations chief, the deputy chairman of a cell of the Communist party, the deck chief, engine and assistant military aide.

The defectors said they dumped their bodies into the sea.

The four turned themselves in to the Japanese Maritime Safety Agency in Shimomoseki. The agency detained all 13 but kept the four defectors separated from the nine who expressed a desire to return to North Korea.

For the time being, all 13 were detained on charges of illegal entry into Japan.

Officials said the investigation was difficult because the Koreans know little Japanese. But they said they pieced together this story:

The boat left Siniu, North Korea, Sept. 7. The boat became separated from the fishing fleet in the Yellow Sea last Tuesday. The next day, the four seized weapons from the bridge and killed the seven party watchdogs and locked up the others. They tossed the bodies into the sea off Red China's Shantung Peninsula.

Japanese officials said they found blood stains and bullet holes in the radio room and captain's quarters. They added that they found one Soviet-made automatic pistol, two small weapons, two carbines, one light machine gun and several rounds of ammunition.

Arrest 12

The judge signed an order Friday night requiring Carroll to surrender to the U.S. Marshall here before noon next Saturday, Sept. 24. In court Friday the judge said Carroll would have to begin his term at noon Saturday. But the later date was stipulated when he signed the order.

Carroll remained free under his original $3,000 appearance bond. The case against him had been pending since he pleaded guilty at a hearing last month involving Negro claims that law officers were ignoring the court's orders to protect legal rights demonstrations.

The constable had refused to accept a federal court subpoena and struck a lawyer who had tried to serve it on him.

Houston Defense Is Nothing Like Last Season's

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

Last year Houston's defense would have had trouble with the big, bad wolf. A huff and a puff and down it went.

"The line was just being blown out of there," Coach Wally Lemm explained. "They were just too small."

But the Oilers aren't small any more with the addition of two mammoth defensive tackles — 6-foot-9, 315-pound Ernie Ladd and 6-5, 270-pound Pat Holmes. The only thing small now is the opposition yardage.

But the Oilers' new-found defensive strength will get its severest test so far this season when they tackle the Jets at New York Sunday in a battle for the Eastern Division lead in the American Football League.

In other games Sunday, Kansas City is at Oakland, Miami at Buffalo and Boston at Denver.

With Buffalo's two-time champs already showing two losses the Houston-New York game will be watched for a true indication of the strengths of the only remaining undefeated teams in the Eastern Division.

Big Improvement
Houston added 191.6 yards rushing and 178.4 yards passing a game last year compared with 53 and 149 in two games so far this season. And Lemm leaves no doubt that Ladd and Holmes have made the big difference — particularly against rushing.

The Oilers are 2-0 and have scored 76 points. The opposition has scored seven.

The Jets will have gimp-legged Joe Namath starting at quarterback but will have to pull their running game together to get by the Oilers. Fullback Matt Snell, the big signer, was not impressive in New York's opening 19-14 victory over Miami.

The Chiefs announced their intention of challenging for the Western crown by mauling Buffalo 42-20.

The Chiefs may not have too much trouble with an Oakland team that hasn't been able to get untracked.

The Bills, who have been unable to put together a consistent offense with quarterback Jack Kemp suffering with a sore arm, might be able to get started against Miami.

Clan Takes 4-1 Win In Exhibition

MacMurray's soccer unit utilized impressive speed and seeming mid-season finesse Saturday afternoon to post a 4-1 exhibition game triumph over Springfield in their 1966 season debut.

The home encounter saw the always pressing Highlanders score twice in each of the last two periods to wipe-out a 1-0 halftime deficit, and gave Mac coach Fred Taube an idea of the squad's potential going into next weekend's season opener against Lake Forest.

Strong defensive work and a sharp passing game, even by late-season standards, continually kept the Clansmen on the move. The locals recorded complete domination of the charts, netting 39 shots on goal, to only seven for Springfield.

Despite outshooting Springfield by 17-4 in the first half, Mac went into the intermission trailing 1-0. Jim Gonulsen collected the visitors' solo marker midway through the second quarter, when a shot caromed off Mac goaltender Bob Gay's shoulder, and Jim Gonulsen booted in the loose ball.

Steve Townsley tallied the Highlander's equalizer early in the third frame, while offensive standout Mike DiMeglio put the locals ahead for good eight minutes later.

Both Clan fourth quarter goals came in the final five minutes of play, with Wayne Macomber and Mike Grossman scoring the insurance tallies.

Missouri Blasts Minnesota, 24-0

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Missouri's new quarterback, Gary Kombrink, used pinpoint passing to break open the game, then turned it over to power runner Barry Lischner to wrap up a convincing 24-0 victory over Minnesota Saturday.

Missouri was fortunate to escape with a 3-0 halftime edge. The Golden Gophers dominated the half with the running and passing of quarterback Curtis Wilson and had an 82-yard touchdown pass to end Ken Last nullified.

A 42-yard field goal by Bill Bates with just 1:14 left provided the halftime edge. But the Tigers, Sugar Bowl champions, struck swiftly from the second half kickoff 71 yards in six plays, with Kombrink pulling the trigger on a 10-yard pass to end Jim Juras and a 46-yarder to halfback Earl Denny to set up the touchdown.

Charlie Brown, Missouri's squirmy halfback who had been well contained in the first half, got the nine-yard touchdown. Later the Tigers moved 61 yards for the clinching touchdown. Bates, an ex-quarterback, took a lateral from Kombrink, then flipped an eight-yard running pass to end Chuck Weber in the end zone.

Missouri linebacker John Douglas got the last TD on a 23-yard pass interception run in the final minute of play. Minnesota 0 0 0 0-0 Missouri 0 3 14 7-24

NY's Richardson Is Honored With Day At Stadium

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Richardson, New York Yankee second baseman, officially announced his retirement from baseball Saturday and was honored with a day at Yankee Stadium prior to his team's game with the Minnesota Twins. Richardson and his wife, Betty, and their two sons and two daughters were presented with almost 60 gifts in the form of merchandise and vacation trips, including a 1966 station wagon. Bobby also was handed thousands of dollars worth of checks for his favorite charities.

Richardson, 31, has decided to hang up his spikes because he wants to devote more time to his family and his youth guidance work as a leader in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Bobby also will be employed as a representative of a life insurance company in South Carolina. He was born in Sumpter, S.C., and still lives there.

The program opened with a dedication by a minister and closed with a hymn, sung by George Beverly Shea of Billy Graham's chapel group. Richardson's mother was present. His father died several years ago.

Richardson, a deeply religious man who does not drink, smoke or swear, believes that it was God's will that he be a ball player and that the time now has come for him to help other athletes.

Southpaw Dennis Bennett, battling back from shoulder surgery last April, evened his record 3-3 with relief help from John Wyatt. Bennett allowed only five hits, including a home run by Bob Rodgers in the seventh before retiring.

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Indiana State routed Eastern Illinois' home opener Saturday with a crushing 32-0 victory in a nonconference football game.

Rich Bartone, rambling for touchdown runs of 12 and 11 yards in the first quarter, got the visitors off to their one-sided triumph.

Indiana State scored all five of its touchdowns on the ground as the Sycamores rolled up 217 yards rushing and 129 passing. Eastern was held to 69 yards rushing and 64 passing.

Millikin's Big Blue wrapped up the game with a 15-point first quarter in which Mathias also scored on a three-yard plunge and Chuck Yurick booted a 39-yard field goal.

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) —

Iowa unleashed a balanced running and passing attack coupled with an at times stingy defense and made new coach Ray Nagel's debut a 31-20 success over Arizona Saturday in an inter-sectional football battle.

The Hawkeyes, loaded with sophomores and inexperienced players, showed surprising poise in hammering through the Wildcats' rather weak line for touchdowns two of the first three times they had the ball.

Quarterback Ed Podolak, a sophomore, directed the attack two-thirds of the way and wound up plunging over for two touchdowns himself and passing for another.

Iowa's other quarterback, junior Chuck Roland, who saw only limited service a season ago, scored the other on a seven-yard scamper in the third quarter.

The triumph snapped an eight-game losing streak for the Big Ten's cellar dwellers of last season. Iowa wasted little time in getting on the scoreboard. With Podolak in command, Iowa took the kickoff and marched on its own 42 in seven plays to score before four minutes had elapsed in the contest.

The two teams were nearly equal in the statistics department. Iowa picked up 167 yards on the ground and 127 passing for a total of 294. Arizona managed only 70 on the ground but picked up 221 through the air, a good portion of it in the final period, for a total of 291.

McCovey's 3rd Homer Wins For SF

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie McCovey's third homer of the game, a two-run blast in the 10th inning, lifted the San Francisco Giants to a 6-4 victory over the New York Mets Saturday.

McCovey connected against Larry Miller after Willie Mays singled with one out and moved to second on John Stephenson's passed ball. The homer, over the right field fence, was the big first baseman's 33rd of the season.

McCovey, whose homer Friday night was the longest ever hit at Candlestick Park, connected off starter Dennis Ribant in the fourth inning and again in the fifth.

The Mets were one out away from beating Juan Marichal for the first time and winning their first season series in their five-year history.

But with two out in the ninth, Jim Hart batted for Marichal, who is 17-0 against New York, and drove a Miller pitch over the left field fence for his 33rd homer, tying the game 4-4.

The Mets had fanned ahead 4-3 in the eighth. Bud Harrelson, who beat the Giants Friday night by stealing home, started the inning with a single. Then with two out he stole second and continued to third on catcher Tom Haller's wild throw into center field.

Al Luplow followed with a blast over the right field fence for his second homer of the day. Ken Boyer and Luplow hit consecutive homers off Marichal in the sixth, cutting the Giants' lead to 3-2.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preston Carpenter, 32-year-old tight end, was traded Friday by the Washington Redskins to the Minnesota Vikings for a middle draft choice.

The Bowling Scene

by Sandy Petersen

Several tight races have developed in local league action during the past week, as most circuits moved past third and fourth night play.

A new individual high, George Manker's 673 three-game series, was set last week, while Manker's 259 game and Wally Baptist's 873 series for four games remained atop the local charts.

Several openings still exist for boys and girls interested in the Bowling Center's junior mixed league program. Junior (12 years of age and under) and senior (13 and over) division league play will open next week at 1 p.m. and 10 a.m., respectively.

Marian Manker took over both top individual marks in women's play with 232 and 589 totals bowled in Queen Pin action Wednesday afternoon.

Topping the prevalent tightly-bunched league standings trend is a three-way deadlock for the Three-Man Scratch Classic League lead. Price Masonry, Wade and Dowland and Besco all share the top spot with 10-6 marks, with the Dodge Boys standing one game off the pace.

Ken Christian had high series of the week with a 792, while Manker's 242 game was also high. Warren Seaman and Al McCarthy share the league's high average mark with 190 clips.

Birdsell Candies and Capital Records share the Tuesday Night Men's League lead, while five other units are only one game back, in another early season position battle.

George Manker paced all bowlers with his 257 game and 673 series, while Birdsell took team series honors on a 3003.

A 2 1/4 to 1/2 game decision kept Wade and Dowland atop the Elks League standing through last week's action, as they moved out to a two and a half game advantage over three other contenders.

Ralph Eoff notched high series for the night on a 603 total, while Alan Smith recorded the high single game, 246.

A position battle is taking shape in Tuesday Night 3-Man Handicap play, as five squads are deadlocked for the second slot, two games behind Besco. The leaders, behind the high series shooting of Wally Baptist (776), have now won eight straight. Baptist, who holds a 196 average in the loop, rated high game of the night with his 244. Bill Shouse leads the league with a 197 average.

Marian Manker continued to dominate individual statistics in Queen Pin League play Wednesday afternoon. The now 180-average rolled a 232 game on way to a 589 series to post new league highs in both departments.

Meadow Gold held its one-game lead in last week's action, via their league high total of 2399. Dunlap Beverages also set a new league high for the year with an 891 total in the third game.

The Bowl Inn and Team No. 3 each netted 2 out of 3 Monday night to gain a share of the Senior Commercial League's top slot. Bowl Inn's 3022 series was high during the circuit's second week action, while Newman's Shoe posted the high game, 1044.

Chet Remm took individual series honors with a 626, with E. Birdsell's 230 rating as high game for the night. Alan Smith's first week series of 661 remained high for the year in league play.

Winning three straight, WJL Radio took over first place in Jacksonville Merchants' League play Tuesday afternoon. The victors posted a 796 game during their 2273 series — both week highs — to gain their edge.

Another sweep, by B & B Products, pushed previous league-leading Agan's Oil to third, despite Ven Mae Brodgon's 511 (167-180-164) series. Mildred Slocum recorded high game of the week with a 188, while Joyce Elliott retained high average honors with her 164 clip.

T & C Sales moved from a three-way tie to a half-game lead over the field in City League action Wednesday night. Chet Remm coupled a 192, 207 and 200 to top high series honors for the second straight week.

His 599 total last week, and his opening night mark of 607 left him with a 201 average: high among all city averages. The Triangle Club set new league highs in the team series and game departments with respective 2929 and 1039 tallies. Ray McKinley netted high game for the night on his 215 effort.

Marian Manker and Irma Turner led Penza Realtors to a year high 2276 series and an 839 record-setting total for a single game Thursday in Rockette League play.

Mrs. Manker rolled 206, 199, 156 to set a new league series high at 560, while Mrs. Turner chipped-in a 500 series to the cause. Despite their individual efforts, Colclasure Bros. held their one game lead over Penza's, and three other units.

Four new league highs were set in Civic League action Wednesday, as The Townsmen and Orleans Grain opened up a one-game lead over the field.

Orleans recorded new marks via 3063 and 1100 countings in the team series and game divisions, while R. Cope's 624 total, and B. Watts' 246 game also set new highs for the campaign.

The Newcomers swept three in the Tuesday Afternoon Ladies league to take a one-game advantage over three-runners. Sue Crouse, who netted high series honors with a 521, and Trudy Orris, high game shooter (208), sparked the Happy Losers high team game effort — 714.

The Hopefuls recorded an 1838 for top series honors.

Bates Market grabbed the standing's top position in Bowlerette League play Thursday, despite the efforts of the second-place Blackhawk's Jo Vasconcellos' 536 (203, 133, 201) series sparked the runners-up to an 894 game and 2433 series for the day: both new highs for the year. Mildred Slocum (Highlander Center) topped high game honors with a 219.

All four entrants in the C D of A League moved into a deadlock with 3-3 season marks after Tuesday's play. Loretta Ring captured top series and game marks with 445 and 179 figures.

A two-way tie developed into a three-team fight in the PIA-Mor League Friday, with A.C.W.A., Hertzberg and Hillcrest Mobile now sharing the top slot.

M. Simmons' 214 game set a new circuit high, while M. Lewy topped the week's series race with a 498.

Bobby and Sam Gibson's 987 series and 340 solo contest totals highlighted action in the Friday Night Mixed League. The latter's 546 series rated as high for the night, while W. E. Leininger took high game honors with a 191.

The Burnetts presently hold the league lead with an 8-4 mark.

Jim's Super Value took sole possession of first place in the Community League Friday night, while John Eoff highlighted the individual action with his 584 (200, 203, 181) series.

Ommens Grocery, who maneuvered a 2 out of 3 night, set the league's high game and series in the action by netting 1147 and 3010 figures. Harold Covey's (Anderson-Clayton) 215 game was high for the night.

Miami Of Ohio Upsets Indiana In 20-10 Opener

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Aroused Miami of Ohio took Indiana University's football team apart Saturday with a chopping 20-10 upset in the season opener for both clubs.

Indiana, favored by a touchdown against its Mid-American Conference foe, used up all its offense in 54 seconds of the third quarter and never could cope with the cunning running of Miami quarterback Bruce Matthe.

There were 17 points scored in 67 seconds of the hectic third period, but the Redskins weren't to be denied victory in the game they'd been pointing toward since last spring.

Matthe, a 195-pound quarterback, directed the Miami offense. He used the forward pass only sparingly but was at his best on the option play as the bewildered I.U. defense was caught time and again trying to stop the elusive Matthe.

For 54 seconds of the third quarter, it looked like Indiana was about to awaken.

Kaat Claims 24th, Twins Nip NY, 4-2

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Kaat scattered seven hits, joining Sandy Koufax as the only 24-game winners in the majors, as Minnesota defeated the New York Yankees 4-2 Saturday.

Kaat, who lost 10, singled during a four-run Minnesota uprising in the sixth that put the game out of reach. Ted Uhlaender scored the first run on a wild pitch, two more scored on a ground rule double by Rich Rollins and another on Earl Battey's single.

Minnesota 000 004 000-4 6 1 New York 000 001-2 7 1 Kaat and Battey; Downing, Talbot (6), Womack (7), Roniff (9) and Howard. W-Kaat, 24-10. L-Downing, 9-11.

Hardly anyone's noticed it, with all the fuss over Gaylord Perry's big year for the San Francisco Giants, but at the time his record stood at a gaudy 20-2, older brother Jim boasted a better ERA pitching for the Minnesota Twins.

Think Bill DeWitt's fazed because he traded Baltimore right into a pennant by giving them Frank Robinson? We hear down Cincinnati way that he's now toying with the idea of unloading his All-Star shortstop, Leo Cardenas, for a top-flight pitcher, maybe Claude Osteen of the Dodgers... who'd like to move slowing Maury Wills out of the shortstop job to the comfort of second base.

Triple Play Helps Sox Tip Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Chicago White Sox pulled off a triple play in the ninth inning Saturday as they defeated the American League-leading Baltimore Orioles 3-1 behind Jerry Adair's three-run homer. The loss was the Orioles' sixth in their last eight games.

The Orioles went into the ninth trailing 3-1, but they threatened when consecutive doubles by Dave Johnson and Paul Blair put runners at second and third with none out.

Tommy John then got Andy Etchebarren to hit a grounder to first baseman Tom McCraw. McCraw stepped on first for one out, then fired to shortstop Adair, catching Blair in a rundown between second and third. Adair tagged Blair near third for the second out, and Johnson suddenly broke for the plate.

Adair fired to the plate, and catcher John Romano flipped to John who tagged Johnson on the bench and earning the game ball after the opener in Buffalo. Did he get frustrated during six years of idleness and thing of quitting? "Sure, plenty of times." Then what kept him going? "Would you believe money?"

Coan, incidentally, says he never ran the 100 in 9.5 as a Texas schoolboy. "It was really 9.7," he shrugs. And is that bad for a 6-4 1/2, 222-pound halfback?

Yogi Berra's craggy visage continues a topic for dugout discussion. The Philadelphia Phillies were talking about it the other day and Manager Gene Mauch led off, "I played Legion ball against Yogi when I was 17 years old. He had shaggy hair then. I think he's handsome now."

"Well, he didn't look so good when I saw him break in," said Coach Cal McLish, "in 1947." Chipped in outfielder Johnny Callison of the younger generation, "He's not exactly an oil painting now."

Even before the Detroit Lions' startling upset of the Chicago Bears in their NFL opener, veteran linebucker W. A. Walker was saying he thought they had the best set of running backs in his nine-year tenure with the club.

chiefly because of the strong showing at fullback of soph Tom Nowak, who dropped some weight and picked up compensating quickness.

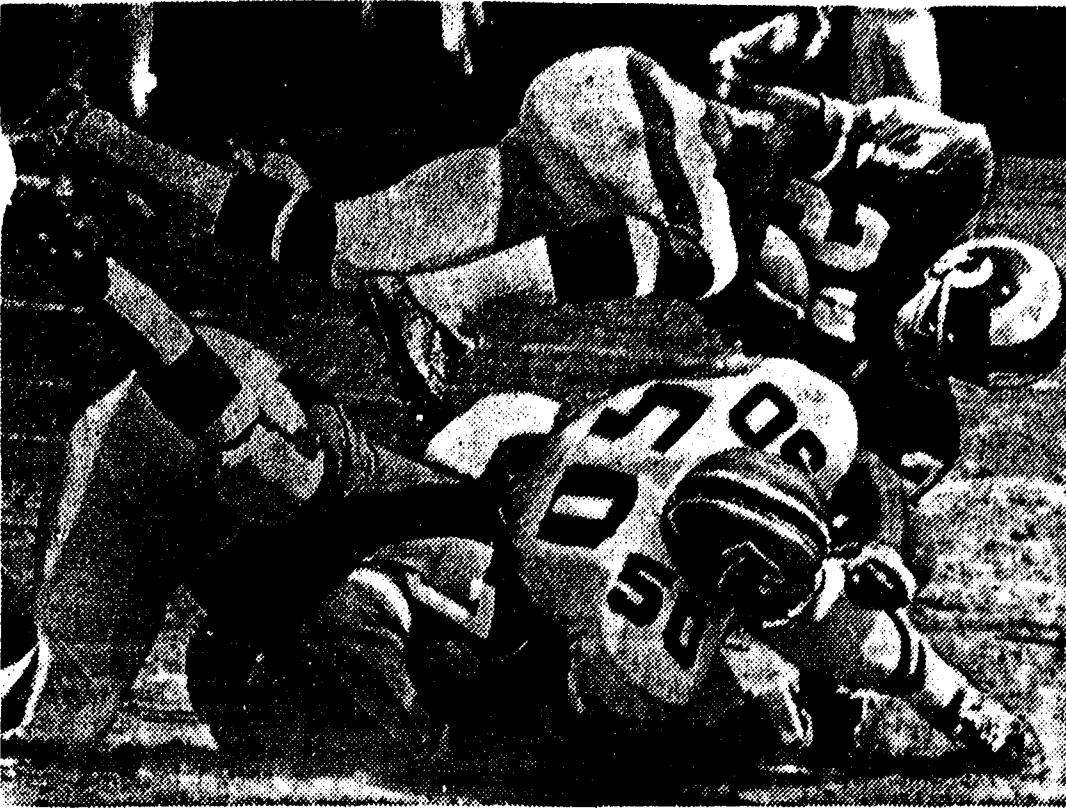

Paul Christman, a fair flinger in his day who indulges in television expertise now, thinks Joe Namath's bad hinge is affecting his passing for the New York Jets. "I watched him work out before a game," says Paul, "and he was throwing off his rear leg."

IC Opens Here Monday Afternoon

Coach Joe Brooks' Illinois College football squad makes its 1966 debut in a rare Monday afternoon contest tomorrow at 4:00, in non-conference game against Eureka at the IC field.

This season on paper shapes up to be a rebuilding one for the Blueboys with big losses caused by graduation from last year's 6-2 club. Only two defensive regulars are back, but five offensive line regulars and three backfield regulars will be playing.

"I can't tell how tough we are, we've had some pretty good scrimmages but it's hard to go by that," says Brooks. "We have some good freshmen, but we're going to have to depend a lot on our veterans early."

Brooks' offensive lineup will have Dave Hill (170) and Butch Bending (180) at the ends, Ed Simoncelli (195) and Ben Todaro (195) at the guards, co-captain John Zergal (230) at center, Phil Snowden and Tom Rowland, both 160, at the halfbacks, Jerry Sapp (175) at fullback and Bucky Sullivan (160) at quarterback. The two tackles will be chosen from Bill Temple (260), Marion Owens (215), Doug Hardwick (215) and Garth Cripe (290).

Defensive halfbacks will be chosen from among Snowden, Roger, Camp, Mark Whittier and Bill Brooks. Linebackers to start are Mike Herter and Dennis Watson. Doug Hardwick will be at defensive ends, Cripe and Terry Allen at the middle guards and Tom Lenz and Fred Hardwick at the tackles.

IC has beaten Eureka 25-0 and 20-0 the past two years, but Brooks reports, "They have a new coach and I expect them to be much tougher."

New Wisconsin Team Beats Iowa State 20-10

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Newlook Wisconsin, with sophomore John Ryan firing a decisive 14-yard scoring pass, and a revamped defense rising repeatedly to the occasion, beat down Iowa State 20-10 Saturday in a nonconference football opener.

Ryan's scoring shot to Bill Fritz with 64 seconds left in the first half gave the comeback Badgers a 14-10 halftime lead.

The Badgers' revamped defense, ninth last season in the Big Ten, took over from there and dampen the explosive passing combination of Tim Van Galder and Eddie Barney—the most productive in the Big Eight a year ago.

Three times the Badgers picked off Van Galder passes. One of the interceptions—by Dave Berg—came in the end zone after the Cyclones had driven to the one yard line in a series that started when Ted Hall recovered a fumble by Lynn Buss at the Wisconsin 33 early in the second period.

Wisconsin drove back up field from its 20 after that to add to the Badgers 14-10 lead with the first of two Tom Schinke field goals—a 20-yarder. Schinke, who also added a 32-yard boot late in the last quarter got the Badgers going in the first period when he intercepted a Van Galder pass intended for Barney at the Iowa State 34.

Wisconsin took the lead eight plays later as John Boyajian rolled out at the 16 and passed to sophomore Buss at the five.

Buss crashed over from there, taking defender Dave Mayberry into the end zone with him.

Arkansas Rally Nets 14-10 Edge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Quarterback Jon Brittenum raced 11 yards with 3:13 remaining and lifted Arkansas to a 14-10 comeback victory over stubborn Oklahoma State here Saturday night.

The fifth-ranked Pikers were in danger of losing their first regular season game in more than two years when Brittenum directed a 32-yard drive to the winning touchdown, helped by a 15-yard holding penalty.

The unranked Cowboys blunted Arkansas' vaunted offense and relied on the jolting runs of sophomore fullback Larry Gosney for the yardage that almost built a major upset.

After a 7-7 halftime tie, Gosney led the Cowboys in a 60-yard drive that ended with a 22-yard field goal by sophomore Craig Kessler and a 10-7 lead.

SMU Upsets Illini In 26-7 Surprise

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist struck swiftly for touchdowns in the first and fourth quarters, then relied on an iron defense and the punting of Dennis Partee to upset Illinois 26-7 Saturday night.

Quarterback Mac White of the Mustangs provided all the offense either team could show in the season opening football game for both teams in the Cotton Bowl.

The first time the Mustangs got the ball White dashed 25 yards to start Southern Methodist's 55-yard touchdown march.

Wolverines Romp 41-0 In Opener

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Speedy Carl Ward and bulldozing Dave Fisher each scored a pair of touchdowns and led Michigan to a 41-0 victory over Oregon State in the football season opener for both teams Saturday.

The Wolverines, who last defeated Oregon State in the 1965 Rose Bowl game, scored the first two times they had the ball with Ward carrying 18 yards for the first touchdown and a yard for the second.

Michigan added its third touchdown with less than a minute remaining in the half with Fisher going in from a yard out. Another one-yard plunge by Fisher in the final quarter closed out the scoring.

Ernie Sharpe went three yards for another Michigan touchdown in the third quarter following an exchange of fumbles.

Sub quarterback Dennis Brown combined with end Jim Berline for a 26-yard scoring play with two seconds remaining for the Wolverines' final score.

Brooks' offensive lineup will have Dave Hill (170) and Butch Bending (180) at the ends, Ed Simoncelli (195) and Ben Todaro (195) at the guards, co-captain John Zergal (230) at center, Phil Snowden and Tom Rowland, both 160, at the halfbacks, Jerry Sapp (175) at fullback and Bucky Sullivan (160) at quarterback. The two tackles will be chosen from Bill Temple (260), Marion Owens (215), Doug Hardwick (215) and Garth Cripe (290).

Defensive halfbacks will be chosen from among Snowden, Roger, Camp, Mark Whittier and Bill Brooks. Linebackers to start are Mike Herter and Dennis Watson. Doug Hardwick will be at defensive ends, Cripe and Terry Allen at the middle guards and Tom Lenz and Fred Hardwick at the tackles.

IC has beaten Eureka 25-0 and 20-0 the past two years, but Brooks reports, "They have a new coach and I expect them to be much tougher."

Spurrier Passes Florida To 43-7 Romp Over 'Cats

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Steve Spurrier passed for three touchdowns and kicked two field goals Saturday in leading Florida to an impressive 43-7 inter-sectional football victory over Northwestern.

Outweighed by the Big Ten team, Florida used superior speed and Spurrier's pinpoint tosses for a rout in what was expected to be a close game.

Richard Trapp, a junior speedster, caught two touchdowns and started another drive with a 32-yard run.

U.S. Marine Band

Benefit Concert Sept. 19 Gets Needed Boost With Additional Patron Help

The "RED COATS" are coming! See and hear the United States Marine Band—Monday, Sept. 19 at the Jacksonville High School gymnasium.

The United States Marine Band is the world's foremost military symphonic concert band. These world-famous scarlet-coated bandmen are not just a marching unit. They are professional musicians who play almost daily at the White House for all presidential occasions and for all visiting heads of state and dignitaries.

They are called upon to perform every type of musical arrangement. Its symphonic arrangements, quartets and string ensembles include marches, classic, semi-classic and popular tunes. These all add up to make an exciting and colorful program with something to suit the taste of everyone.

The famous cornet trio will include Bob Isle, a former resident of Jacksonville who played in the Jacksonville High School Band, and studied cornet at MacMurray College under Dr. Henry E. Busche, from the seventh grade through high school. These were the formative years and Bob's aim was to become a member of the United States Marine Band. He knew the very rigid requirements for both instrument and character to be selected for the band but met both with determination.

Another concert highlight will be the marimba soloist, James Preiss. A matinee performance will be given at 2 p.m. and the evening performance at 8:00 p.m. It will be three or four years before there is even an opportunity of a return performance of the United States Marine Band as they tour a different section of the United States each year.

No individual is profiting from these concerts. All net profits will be used by the sponsors, the Pilot Club of Jacksonville, for civic and community projects. Tickets will also be available at the door.

More Patrons
The latest group of patrons for this benefit includes: Mr. and Mrs. Merton H. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wadsworth Applebee, Dr. and Mrs. H. Dean Artman, Pittsfield, and Mrs. Thomas W. Auner.

Editorial Comment

Statesmanship Required On Local Level

There is good cause to believe that the negotiations between representatives of the City and the Village of South Jacksonville on water and sewer problems will be reopened next week in a better atmosphere of mutual understanding.

Much as we like to report the news first, it is quite questionable whether the exchange of letters in the newspapers have helped in bringing about a satisfactory resolution of differences. The talents of the municipal officials and their respective attorneys could be better utilized at the conference table.

Some time ago we urged fair treatment for the residents of the Village in the establishment of rates. This does not mean that those outside the city of Jacksonville should not pay a higher rate for water and sewer than city residents. City residents assumed a large general obligation bonded indebtedness to pay for the pipe line to the Illinois river and for other water system improvements. Their water bills should be less than those whose property is not subject to taxes for these bonds.

The basic question is what is a fair rate differential. This is not a matter for cut-throat bargaining. The City and the Village must pull together, not apart, on many community problems. Some day the light might even dawn on a new Park District.

We have hope that a reasonable compromise will be worked out soon. Once a fair rate formula is arrived at we think a long term contract should be entered into so that this sore subject does not continually raise its head. This does not require a fixed dollar rate. The contract should be in flexible terms to provide against inflationary changes.

The Man In Space

Somehow, a way is going to have to be found to permit an astronaut to move about freely and perform useful work outside his orbiting vehicle. This need has been heavily underscored by Gemini space-walk experiments, notably including the last one in which Richard F. Gordon was forced to call it quits.

Two things militated against Gordon's staying outside the Gemini capsule the full time planned and doing all the tasks assigned. One was extreme physical stress; his heartbeat raced to 162 per minute at one point, and he was breathing heavily at an excessive rate. The other factor was that sweat partially obscured his vision, and he had no way of wiping his brow.

There is a kind of irony in this—that a venture which is the end result of a tremendous outlay of money and brains can be hampered by the limitations of human physiology. Yet the active participation of men is essential. The human body is what the space engineers have to work with; they cannot modify it, but must devise equipment and techniques to overcome its limitations.

There is reason for confidence that this can be done. The combination of skills that has lofted space vehicles into orbit and sent others to the moon and beyond can be depended upon to work out methods for enabling an astronaut to function usefully outside his ship. But the Gemini 11 flight, for all its great success in rendezvous and docking, has made it clear that a lot of work remains to be done at the task of adapting man to the space environment.

Dear Ann:

Henpecked People Should Speak Out

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: After reading the letter from "Too Close For Comfort" I am compelled to give you the other side of the story. "Too Close" described how her mother behaved belittled and constantly picked on her father for 50 years.

Did it occur to you that a man who lets his wife hen-peck him for half a century is no saint. He is just plain dumb.

My husband and I were married too young—both 18. After seven years and three children he announced that he was moving out. I was shocked. Reason: He was sick and tired of listening to me finish his sentences, correct his English in front of friends and compare his income unfavorably with others in our crowd. He had become fed up with my domineering ways and said so.

After a week I asked him to come home. I hadn't realized what I was doing to him and I admitted it.

All this happened many years ago and we've gotten along extremely well ever since. Once Ann, you wrote, "if you don't want to be treated like a doormat, SAY something." Why didn't you say that this time? — FORMER HEN-PECKER

Dear Ann Landers: Thank you. I will. If you don't want to be treated like a doormat "SAY" something. Don't just lie there.

Dear Ann Landers: I know women who quote you right along with the Bible. You can get ideas across like nobody else. Please print this letter for the benefit of all mothers who have small children.

Mothers: Please stay out of it when your youngsters are having their little arguments and fights with playmates. Children can be mad at each other one minute and be the best of friends the next minute—if they are left alone.

The woman who lives next door was forever getting involved in her children's battles. She was always running to neighbors to protest the way their kids were treating her kids. Naturally, the parents defended their own kids and got into a fight far more bitter than the little squabble the kids had had.

My neighbor is now on the outs with everyone in the block and I really feel sorry for her. So, Ann, please warn other mothers not to make the same stupid mistake. — NO REFERENCE

Dear Ann Ref: Your warning was sufficient. Thank you for writing. It's an excellent bit of advice.

Dear Ann: No earthshaking problem, but an annoying one. Can you help?

When my husband and I go out for an evening we often walk or take public transportation. We leave our car in the carport.

Some folks in this town have a habit of dropping over without first calling to see if it is convenient. When they see the car in the carport they are certain they have turned out the lights and are hiding in the house. Several women have very nearly called me a liar when I have told them we were not at home when they dropped by. They all mentioned seeing the car in the carport.

What do you suggest? — OUT BUT IN

Dear Ann: Why do you let these clods put you on the defensive? Tell them that the next time they want to see you they'd better telephone first or they may have to settle for seeing just the car again.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Manners Make Friends

Living with People

A book on good manners often reaches a teen-ager before a parent does.

The popular cheer, "sis-boom-rah," is a variant of another cheer popular in the 1880s when crowds at celebrations and patriotic events shouted in unison, "his-boom-ah," in imitation of the sound of a rocket being ignited, exploding and shedding its colored stars.

Choice of Weak Candidates Reduces GOP's Chances

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Republican party in 1966 seems on the way to repeating, in some measure, an old pattern—here and there picking weak candidates for top office just when the outlook for a sizable upturn looks bright.

Some party professionals will acknowledge privately that over the years this unhappy circumstance has cost the GOP many governorships and Senate and House seats which were either in their hands or ripe for the plucking.

Consequently, the professionals were upset early this summer when Minnesota Republican chose as their governor-nominee one Harold Levander, widely viewed as the frailest of several prospects. Independent appraisers think his nomination sharply revives hopes of the badly riven Minnesota Democrats.

They hold to this judgment even if the badly battered Gov. Karl Roosa should beat out Lt. Gov. A. L. (Sandy) Keith in the Sept. 13 primary. Keith was named over Roosa in a stormy convention in June.

The situation in Idaho is perhaps even more to the point. By an astonishing 62-38 margin, Republican voters named a colorful state legislator, Don Samuelson, to be their 1966 governor-nominee in place of three-term Gov. Robert Smylie.

Smylie obviously had come to the end of the road. But he also was given a hefty shove by a very full Goldwaterites who sought his downfall at all costs. In their book he is an enemy moderate.

What causes concern in national GOP circles is that they put their chips on a candidate whose political salability they themselves appear to doubt.

One month after his whopping victory, Samuelson is getting no real build-up at all. During the primary, he shunned television and seldom advised the press where he would be campaigning.

On the other hand, Swisher, a labor favorite, Labor leaders may yet swing behind him, as some local circles already have done. Naturally, labor defections from Herndon would do him no good.

Swisher, a GOP progressive who was state Senate architect of Idaho's controversial three per cent sales tax (up for referendum vote Nov. 8), also could pull support from sales tax advocates and teachers who see that revenue as vital to educational expansion. This backing would otherwise appear to be Herndon's, since Samuelson voted against the tax and against various education and welfare bills.

On the other hand, Swisher may draw many GOP moderates, though some would not risk credentials as "regulars" by acting openly.

Moreover, his mere presence in the race will serve, in the view of some Idahoans, to underscore Samuelson's ultra-conservative outlook and his singular lack of color and drive.

'Safety Play' Is Dangerous

When is a safety play not a safety play? When it turns out to be an "unsafety play," of course.

Look at all the cards and note that South can make five odd without any trouble. Whenever he gets the lead he simply plays the ace and king of trumps. This drops East's queen and Jack whereupon dummy's ten spot will pick up West's nine.

An average bridge player will make these 11 tricks. So will most experts but today's South was the kind of expert who knew so much that he frequently managed to confuse himself.

East won the first trick with the ace of diamonds and returned the deuce. South won and played his ace of trumps. East followed with the queen and South paused for study.

There is a standard safety play available here to guard against finding the rest of the trumps in the West hand. You simply lead a low trump toward dummy. If West started with four trumps to the jack he will make only one natural trump trick.

South decided to make this play. East won with the jack and gave his partner a diamond ruff. The trouble with South's play was that in an effort to guard against one possible distribution he exposed himself to all sorts of trouble otherwise.

There were many other ways in which the actual one that this "safety" play could hurt him. In addition, even if West did hold all the missing trumps the play would not work if East held the ace of clubs. West would lead a club to his partner and still get the diamond ruff.

FINDING THE WAY

From Hell . . . to Heaven

Dr. Loew

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Twenty years ago, Frankfurt, Berlin and hundreds of other cities were in ruins. To see them at that time was not only to weep at the destruction of architecture, it was to cringe at the human lives. Man walked through the rubble and stared through skeletal faces with unlighted eyes.

At that time I knew a man, as gaunt and suffering as the rest but with a flame burning in him. Otto Fricke had defied Hitler, had suffered in his homeland and had believed in 1946 that he could assist political refugees. He wanted to build a village from the rubble of Frankfurt.

Seldom have I seen a man more captivated by a great idea. The place reeked of hell and he talked of heaven.

Recently we returned for our third visit to Heilsberg near Frankfurt. The neat homes now house 4,000 persons. The gardens are prosperous and the whole area is a place of peace.

It is hard to believe that all of this has come to pass in 20 years. For this is no professional builder's suburb; these houses were built by the community and these people have constructed a new environment for freedom.

The bricks were made of clay and rubble; the dream was made of faith and hope.

The little church, financed by a congregation of American Christians, is now outgrown and a new church towers on the ridge overlooking the great plain that stretches into Frankfurt. I wondered whether the same burning faith would glow in these more affluent times.

This is why the story needs to be known and retold, for it is another evidence of undefeated faith. History is replete with the stories of men who were heroes under the pressure of some catastrophe. We are driven by the compulsions of events outside of us before we are compelled by the faith within us.

If an Otto Fricke can burn with a faith that built a town in a time of disaster, some of us can burn with a faith to save a town from disaster.

If a man of courage can find a way to transform the rubble of a broken city into new homes for refugees, some of us can find a way to transform the broken dreams and promises of so many of our cities into a new environment of encouragement.

Too many men have used violence; too many persons have looked through lifeless eyes. To remember Otto Fricke is to return to the tensions of our present, certain that the compulsion of an inner faith can achieve new cities of hope.

French Needs Teasing

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Q—Please tell me what is real French dressing and what goes into it. Is it always pink?

A—Real French dressing is never pink or never creamy. Here are authentic French instructions: two to three parts olive, peanut or vegetable oil, one part wine or herb vinegar, a suspicion of Dijon mustard, freshly ground pepper and salt to taste. That's all there is to authentic French dressing.

The French will insist that olive, walnut and peanut oils imported from France are exceptionally fine. French vinegars are made with red, white or rose wines. There is also a French tarragon vinegar. In the United States, as well as in parts of France, freshly squeezed lemon juice is used sometimes instead of vinegar.

Q—I am confused about what is meant by dehydrated garlic. Please explain. We use a lot of garlic in cooking in my family.

A—There are three forms of dehydrated garlic powder, salt and minced. Instant garlic powder is just what it says. Use it in either hot or cold dishes. Garlic salt is garlic powder mixed with common table salt.

If you look quickly at minced garlic, you think you're seeing sesame seeds. But mixtures of sesame seeds and minced garlic can be used in cold mixtures, too, but it should be allowed to stand for an hour for full effect.

Corn Outlook: Higher Prices And Declining Stocks In Year Ahead

The U.S. Department of Agriculture raised its September 1 estimate of the 1966 corn crop by 100 million bushels, or 3 percent higher than the August forecast.

But even with this increase corn growers can expect to see higher prices than a year ago and declining stocks during the coming year, a University of Illinois grain marketing economist reported this week. Here is how L. F. Stice appraises the current corn market situation:

The smaller 1966 corn crop, the high level of livestock feeding and exports and the reduction in stocks of old corn point to higher prices in the 1966-67 marketing year than a year earlier. How much higher is uncertain.

The USDA September 1 crop estimate was 4,090 million bushels, a drop of 2 percent from the 1965 crop of 4,171 million bushels. The average yield of 69.6 bushels compared with 73.1 last year and 62.4 in 1964. So, despite some unfavorable yields, this year's corn crop may tie 1963 for the second

Illinois Farm OUTLOOK

PRICES FOR FEEDER CATTLE UNCERTAIN

Feed cattle prices will average higher in 1967 than they have been this year. Feed costs will be higher. Feeder cattle costs also will be higher. For feeder cattle, the big question is how much higher. Will prices continue upward, or will they decline with the heavy fall movement of replacement cattle? Presently, relatively stable prices seem the best answer.

Feed grain crops and prices will probably be a major factor in feeder cattle prices this fall. Prices of finished cattle during the fall usually affect feeder cattle prices. Right now it does not appear that feed cattle prices will change greatly.

Early this year prices of feeder cattle at Kansas City followed the same trend as finished cattle, selling from $4.00 to $6.00 above the previous year. In midsummer, after prices of finished cattle dropped, feeder cattle prices stayed slightly above those of a year earlier, and by late August they had strengthened sharply to about $3.00 above 1965 prices.

Little Supply Change
The total supply of cattle available for feeding was just about the same on July 1 this year as last. Although the January 1 inventory showed slightly over a million more beef steers, heifers and calves than on January 1, 1965, the increase in slaughter during the first six months and the 11 percent increase in cattle on feed July 1 left the total available from January 1 numbers about the same as a year earlier.

The 1966 calf crop is estimated to be down about 2 percent from last year. The decrease is primarily in dairy calves. During the first six months of 1966, imports of feeder cattle from Mexico and Canada were 150,000 above 1965. Imports will continue to be large.

Holding back heifers for breeding herds might reduce feeder cattle numbers. Large numbers of heifers have been fed in recent years, and on July 1 this year the number was up 15 percent over last year. Cow and heifer slaughter has continued high. If feeder cattle prices are high enough this fall, ranchers may be encouraged to hold back heifers for breeding, although at present there is no such indication.

More Competition
Competition in cattle feeding is increasing. There are more large-scale feeding operations. In 1964, 40 percent of the fed cattle were marketed from lots of 1,000 head or more. Illinois marketed only 8.1 percent of its total from lots of this size; at the other extreme, California marketed 97.6 percent from this size group. The location of cattle feeding operations is also shifting. Texas, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma are coming to the forefront. With 45 percent more cattle on feed July 1 this year than last, Texas is now slightly ahead of Illinois. The five leading states in numbers on feed July 1 were Iowa, 1,628,000; California, 1,133,000; Nebraska, 1,022,000; Texas, 512,000; and Illinois, 500,000. Increased numbers of large feedlots and expanded feeding in new areas will intensify competition for replacement cattle.

It now looks as if feeder cattle prices will remain fairly steady for the rest of this year, with no sizeable increases or decreases. However, cattle feeders should watch developments closely in the next few weeks for signs of a trend.

Feeder Futures Contract Delivery

The first delivery to fill contracts in the Kansas City Feeder Cattle Futures Market was made Tuesday, Sept. 6, to fill an August contract.

The Futures market on the Kansas City Board of Trade, the first of its kind in the world, was officially opened last June 20, offering contracts for August, October and December of this year, and February of 1967.

Eight contracts, 271 head, were delivered during the week. All were Herefords, with 261 grading choice and 10 grading good. Average weight per head ranged from 691 to 789.

The photo shows Ralph J. Crawford, president, and J. S. Chartrand, executive vice president, of the Kansas City Board of Trade examining the first delivery, 35 head. They averaged 691, 35 head graded choice and 2 graded good.

The new futures market has been approached cautiously by all concerned, but yet a total of 393 contracts for feeder cattle were traded from June 20 through Sept. 9.

A Long Study
For many years the cattle industry has discussed the possibility of a market in feeder futures. The breeders and feeders of cattle desired the "risk insurance" provided by future contracts — the ability to hedge each step of beef production — the feed grains, the feeders, and the fat cattle.

The following persons, after witnessing the first delivery, volunteered the following comments:

Dennis Smith, Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith, Inc., Kansas City, office, stated: "We have found the deliveries to be entirely feasible and that only minor changes may be made in the future — among them an allowance for 'scurs' or short regrowth of horns. We now know what kind of cattle are specified and everyone can judge accordingly."

Robert Lee Stanton, cattle producer and buyer, Rockport, Mo., commented: "With this type of Futures Market on Feeder Cattle coming into existence, I can stay at home and complete all my cattle transactions without leaving my office."

O. C. Swackhamer, long-time cattle producer and buyer, Rockport, Missouri, asserted: "It's a good workable Futures Market program for Feeder Cattle."

A Financial Bridge
Crawford, president, The Kansas City Board of Trade, summarized the benefits of the Feeder Cattle Futures Market as follows: "The use of feeder cattle futures contracts by the cow-calf operators as well as the stocker-feeder and feedlot operators should provide the public with MORE and BETTER beef. Expressed in its simplest terms, the live feeder futures contract is a form of 'insurance' which, while it cannot guarantee profit, can certainly minimize losses to the cattle-raising industry, upgrade the quality of beef, and offer excellent potentials to the informed speculator."

"Leading economists have long viewed futures as a boon to agriculture and the consumer."

"Futures Contracts also bring into the market investment funds that are important to the healthy growth of any market. Trading in futures by well-qualified investors acts as a sort of financial bridge between the buyer and seller in establishing a fair price."

Bankers from Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin will convene Sunday at the Trees for Tomorrow camp at Eagle River, Wis., for a three day study of the fiscal side of forestry and the production of wood, and to determine the role they can play in a region where the sale of forest products totals more than three billion dollars annually.

Subject matter to be covered during the seminar includes case studies of loans made for buying forest lands and stumpage, woods equipment, and working capital for wood producers. A. C. Hart, president of the First National bank of Arenzville, will be on a panel discussing case studies of forestry loans.

Other factors to be considered include the trend to mechanization, the ratio of investment to production, woods labor, and techniques for setting up a timber sale.

Soybean Variety Plot Field Day Sept. 21

Two soybean fields have attracted considerable attention this year as farmers inspected them to ascertain how well the 12 different varieties planted there were standing the heat and the dry weather.

Through the cooperation of the farmers and the Extension Service the following varieties, listed in order of maturity, were grown this year: A100, Lindarin 63, Harosoy 63, Harosoy, Amsoy, Hawkeye 63, Shelby, Wayne, Clark 63, Clark, Bell, and Drury.

The Drury is a brand new variety, selected from Clark by Charles Drury of the Orleans community.

This year two, instead of the usual one, variety test plots were planted. They are on vastly different soil types. The plot on the James Rawlings farm, four miles southeast of Woodson is on highly fertile prairie soil and the one on the Myrl Sayre farm, six miles north of Jacksonville, is on relatively light timber soil.

There will be a field meeting on the Rawlings farm Wednesday, Sept. 21, beginning at 4:30 p.m. Dr. W. O. Scott, U.I. crops extension specialist, will discuss the various varieties and answer questions.

Farm Adviser George Trull is planning a similar meeting on the Sayre farm, but the date has not yet been determined yet as the U.I. agronomists and crops specialists who are really necessary to make such a meeting a success are extremely busy these days.

Water — Our most abused resource? I don't know which is the most abused — the soil or the water.

I believe water is. We have always taken water for granted. That is we have up until the last few years. Then when the well went dry we realized we were in difficulty.

Not only individual farmers, but cities of all sizes are in short supply of water at times, either for a period of years or at some season of the year.

Basically we need to hold water where it falls as much as possible. Store water in the soil where it will do the most good and can be kept pure. Efforts aimed at holding water in the soil will also aid greatly in conserving the soil.

We need to be careful of polluting streams. Take steps not to pollute them ourselves and demand that others not pollute them.

Keep sewage water, dead animals, waste materials of all kinds out of streams.

Housewives should be sure their detergents are biodegradable. That is, be sure they will break down readily after use. Detergents in streams kill fish. Their presence is shown by bubbles.

We use more water per person each year. We must keep it clean so it can be used.

Fighting water pollution is the obligation of every person, corporation and branch of government.

Now you should . . .

. . . Look for and eat ripe apples.

. . . Can tomatoes.

. . . Enjoy sweet corn and watermelon.

. . . Repair livestock buildings — winter is coming.

. . . Decide what fields to soil test.

. . . Watch prices closely.

. . . Be sure your combine is ready.

WEEVILS JUST LOOKIN' FOR A HOME

MIAMI SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — South Florida's only known cotton grower has destroyed her crop.

Eight-year-old Pam Pearson learned that cotton growing is prohibited in this part of the state because the plant is host to weevils which could spread throughout the South if they get a foothold here.

Pam had a good crop, too — all of 19 bolls.

BRIMFUL and running over

By Jim Brim

WATER — Our most abused resource? I don't know which is the most abused — the soil or the water.

I believe water is. We have always taken water for granted. That is we have up until the last few years. Then when the well went dry we realized we were in difficulty.

Not only individual farmers, but cities of all sizes are in short supply of water at times, either for a period of years or at some season of the year.

Basically we need to hold water where it falls as much as possible. Store water in the soil where it will do the most good and can be kept pure. Efforts aimed at holding water in the soil will also aid greatly in conserving the soil.

We need to be careful of polluting streams. Take steps not to pollute them ourselves and demand that others not pollute them.

Keep sewage water, dead animals, waste materials of all kinds out of streams.

Housewives should be sure their detergents are biodegradable. That is, be sure they will break down readily after use. Detergents in streams kill fish. Their presence is shown by bubbles.

We use more water per person each year. We must keep it clean so it can be used.

Fighting water pollution is the obligation of every person, corporation and branch of government.

Now you should . . .

. . . Look for and eat ripe apples.

. . . Can tomatoes.

. . . Enjoy sweet corn and watermelon.

. . . Repair livestock buildings — winter is coming.

. . . Decide what fields to soil test.

. . . Watch prices closely.

. . . Be sure your combine is ready.

A squealing pig is cold, hungry or uncomfortable.

No two people are alike and both are glad of it.

Many Changes In Wheat Plan, Along With Increased Acres

The national wheat allotment has been increased for 1967 because of a reduction to about 536 million bushels in the July 1 carryover. The carryover has not been that low since 1952, when it was 256 million bushels, according to Duane E. Erickson, University of Illinois extension economist in farm management.

The 1967 wheat program will include price support loans, marketing certificates and substitution between wheat and feed grains. Under the substitution provisions, farmers who participate in both the wheat and feed-grain programs may request an oat, rye and barley base and can then substitute wheat. These provisions are similar to those of the 1966 program. But, unlike the 1966 program, no diversion will be required and no payments will be made for additional diversion, says Erickson.

Should Protect History
Small-allotment wheat farmers who have been diverting their entire allotment cannot continue this practice in 1967. If they wish to plant wheat and receive income from the allotments, they should participate in the wheat program or use the substitution provisions. To protect wheat acreage history, small-allotment farmers should plant at least 75 percent of their allotments to wheat in at least one out of three years, Erickson advises.

Farmers who qualify for the wheat program and sign up are eligible for price support loans of $1.25 per bushel (national average price) on their entire farm wheat production and domestic marketing certificates. Domestic marketing certificates will be based on 35 percent of the projected production of the farm allotment.

35% For Domestic Use
The estimated domestic use for 1967 is 520 million bushels, which could be produced on 35 percent of the 68.2-million-acre national allotment.

Sign-up dates for the 1967 program will be announced later. Erickson says farmers should have recently received their increased acreage allotments. Farmers should direct specific questions on allotments to the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office.

4-H Committee Ends Grading Of Record Books

Extension personnel of this area completed their annual check of 4-H record books at a meeting held in Macomb Wednesday. State project and state outstanding members were selected at that time but the names will not be announced until later in the year, in most cases at each county's Achievement Day program.

Considered during the day were the entries submitted by the Morgan County 4-H Agriculture committee, which is made up of Bob Darley, John Clark, Martin Burrus, Doyle Taylor, Byron McGinnis, Dean Kershaw, Hubert Fricke, Paul Stewart, Edwin Clayton and the county federation president, Tom Burrus.

McGinnis, leader of the Arcadia Aces, and Kershaw, leader of the Northside Seniors, are new members of the council, having recently been elected by the club leaders. They succeeded Charles Williams of the Victory club and Bob Middleton of the Lynnville Hustlers.

Members of the Pontiac 4-H club, together with their parents, attended a smorgasbord dinner at the Rossi restaurant in Virginia Friday evening.

Seven Spacecraft Team

By WALTER B. HENDRICKSON JR.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) is teaming up seven spacecraft to get the most complete and accurate portrait of the sun yet obtained.

These seven spacecraft include three space probes far in interplanetary space and four satellites in orbit around earth. The three space probes are: Pioneer VI and VII and Mariner IV. And the four satellites are Explorer XXXIII and Orbiting Geophysical Observatories (OGO) I, II and III, shown in the picture above.

Pioneers VI and VII are almost carbon copies of each other. The principal difference is in their orbit. Pioneer VI was sent into an orbit closer to the sun than earth's on December 16, 1965; while Pioneer VII was launched into an orbit farther from the sun than earth on August 17, 1966.

Mariner IV also is in an orbit farther from the sun than earth. After taking pictures of Mars on July 15, 1965 Mariner IV was out of range of earth until recently its orbit brought it back closer to earth. Together with the two Pioneers, Mariner IV makes it possible for the scientists to look at events occurring over nearly half the sun.

Report On Radiation
Of course the probes also report on the nature of the solar radiation far away from the influences of earth. The scientists can correlate this data with the information gathered by the four satellites close to earth. These satellites will tell what effect earth's magnetic field has on the radiation from the sun.

Explorer XXXIII is the newest of the satellites being used in this experiment. It was launched from Vandenberg Air Force Base, California, on August 4, 1966. It is in an orbit over the poles which takes it from 220 to 2,776 miles above earth.

New Type Satellites
Like the Pioneers the OGO satellites are all quite similar. They are a new generation of satellites designed to carry as many as fifty experiments placed on shelves in a basic spacecraft. Older generation satellites, like Explorer XXXIII, are designed for a specific experiment or small group of similar experiments.

All three OGOS weigh about 1,000 pounds and travel in long, oval orbits. OGO I was launched into an orbit which carries it from 7,500 to 86,000 miles above earth on September 5, 1964. OGO II was placed in a slight-

Silent World

By John Rankin

When Randy wakes up he finds one big difference in everything — all the world is silent. No talking or whistling, no birds sing, no dogs bark. For once he was glad to leave home for school, but school was different too in this new silent world.

Classes were held in a listless, routine fashion. But no games were played during the recess period and no laughter rang out to shatter the dark cloud of gloom hanging everywhere. Finally the long, dreary day came to an end and the sad-faced youngsters boarded the school bus and started home.

Silent Greeting
Major met Randy as he alighted from the bus and followed him up the hill to the house. But there was no sparkle in the big collie's eyes, no spring in his gait, and his tail drooped in lifeless fashion between his long legs.

Later, Randy sat on the porch with Dad in the cool of the evening and saw the shadows left by the sun fading behind the hills gather on the vines growing on the trellis along the walk. But no song of nighttime birds brightened the dreary quietness, and no drum-like chorus came from the frogs in the marshy swamplands along the creek.

Dad Explains
Dad smoked his pipe and started thoughtfully into space. Finally he knocked the ashes from the bowl on the porch railing and put the pipe in his pocket.

Science Has Answer
Mom appeared in the doorway about then and said, "But this great scientist was a good man and he saw great danger in such an evil trend. So he got busy and with the aid of some secret formula he found a way to silence all wildlife everywhere and to still the voices of children at play! The thing went into effect last midnight!"

"But he only meant to use it for a little while," Dad pointed out. "Just long enough to wake folks up and bring them to their senses and let them feel the dreary gloom of a silent world. Then his plan was to reverse the order of things and return life back to nature."

"But that is the sad part of it," Mom said with a plaintive shrug. "Moments after he touched the thing off he lost his secret formula and not even the greatest scientists in the world know his secret!"

Let's Go Birding

Stilt Sandpiper

By Emma Mae Leonhard

Some may not know that all species of birds practice their own characteristic feeding habits? People do. An American uses the fork exclusively in his right hand when he moves his food to his mouth. He is so determined not to break this habit that he indulges in a curious pattern of hand shifts while eating.

When he is cutting a bite of tough steak, he grasps a fork in his left hand and pins the steak down with it. After he has succeeded in severing the portion from the whole steak, he shifts the fork carrying the bite of steak to his right hand and at last succeeds in inserting the piece of steak into his mouth.

What a prodigious move this is! The European, on the other hand, performs efficiently all of those processes with the same left hand and wastes no time nor energy. But like birds, people are different—and funny too.

We must get back to our subject: "The Stilt Sandpiper." It usually visits us during both the spring and the fall migrations, but not in large flocks. On the morning of September 3 we saw three Stilts wading in a pool of shallow water, feeding near us in their sedate preoccupied manner. At first we disagreed on their identity but after careful observation of their actions and seeing the conspicuous white stripe above the eye, we all pronounced them Stilts and left them to feed peacefully on.

Notice Legs
If, however, the legs are more greenish than yellow, we swing our decision to the Stilt. If it has a white stripe over the eye, we are sure that it is a Stilt. If it is smaller and more slender, we are almost certain that it is one.

When we watch the bird as it feeds in the edge of the water, we have a positive clue to the Stilt. It sometimes pumps its bill up and down like our Do-witcher, while the Yellowlegs usually sways its bill right and left. It also doesn't seem to mind getting its face dirty and pushes its head under the water to feed in the mud below. The Yellowlegs is more fastidious.

People Differ Too

1967 Plymouth Fury Has Big Car Look

A striking all-new exterior appearance with flowing styling along with three new hardtop roofs combine to give the Plymouth Fury a distinctive big car look for 1967. The design of the new Fury emphasizes its size (213.1 inches long on a 119-inch wheelbase), and clearly identifies it as the luxury car in the conventional-size, low-price field. In the Fury line there are 25 models in five series—Fury I, II, III, Sport Fury and V I P, with a choice of five engines. The addition of three new rooflines, each with its own distinctive silhouette, gives hardtop models a completely different look. New safety features include an impact-absorbing steering column, dual braking, a deep, safety-padded instrument panel and a hazard warning light system. All four-door hardtops and some two-door hardtops have a new flow-through ventilation system as standard. Shown is the Sport Fury two-door Fast Top.

Building Supplies Stolen In Viet Nam

By BOB HORTON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials estimated today millions of dollars in building supplies sent to Viet Nam have been stolen outright, damaged in hasty unloading operations or ruined by exposure due to lack of storage facilities.

"A few million dollars worth stolen? Hell, yes," declared a top officer connected with the Viet Nam construction program.

"Well, say below $10 million — maybe under $5 million," he added. "We really don't have a fix on it yet."

But a more definite idea of the loss may emerge in November, he said, when civilian contractors complete an inventory now under way at three major depots and 13 warehouses in Viet Nam.

This will be the first accounting of what materials the contractor has used and has in stock — eight months after a gargantuan stream of supplies began pouring into Southeast Asia for U.S. military facilities. Officials say the delay in getting records up to date could not be avoided because of the crash mobilization undertaken by the private consortium known as RMK-BRJ, now performing nearly $800 million of work in South Viet Nam.

RMK-BRJ stands for Raymond International of New York; Morris-Knudsen of Boise, Idaho; Brown & Root of Houston, Tex., and J.A. Jones Construction Co. of Charlotte, N.C.

Building the priority installations — temporary quarters for troops, air bases for warplanes, ports for receiving supplies — came first. Bookkeeping by necessity was done if and when there was time.

Vast amounts of lumber, steel and cement were ordered late last year and began arriving in Viet Nam in January. But there were virtually no ports to receive the materials and, further, no place to store them.

Barges dumped the goods onto beaches. From there they were hauled or dragged to cleared areas for open storage while warehouses were built.

Land for the major depots couldn't be acquired until about April, this officer said.

Three major depots were completed in July and August at Saigon, Da Nang and Cam Ranh Bay. Now, officials said, the construction combine has three 10-man teams at work compiling records on stocks as they are separated, classified and stored in bins.

The task at the three big depots, however, is only the top of the iceberg. Accounting also must be accomplished at 13 sub-depots and at 76 general warehouses, 21 cement warehouses and over literally thousands of square yards of open storage areas where supplies have piled up.

Target date for completion of the inventory is Nov. 1.

First Moon explorers Will Be Quarantined

By RONALD THOMPSON
AP Aerospace Writer

MANNED SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP)—The first three Americans who take a roundtrip voyage to the moon will be treated more like they had the plague, than as heroes of the day—at least for a few weeks.

There'll be no tickertape parades, handshakes from the President or even hugs and kisses from their families until the U.S. Public Health Service makes sure the cosmic travelers didn't bring home some strange lunar varmints.

Some scientific circles have long expressed fears that men who explore the universe might unknowingly come in contact with harmful organisms that could thrive on our planet. With this possibility in mind, however remote, National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans take no chances.

The astronauts, their capsule and the 60 pounds of priceless moon rocks they are assigned to collect and bring back will be under strict quarantine for about three weeks. Only a few technicians and doctors will be permitted near them, then only after special precautions.

Designed for this purpose, an $8.1-million Lunar Receiving Laboratory, to include bunks for the spacemen and party, is now under construction at the Manned Spacecraft Center. It is due to be finished by late next year, in time to support optimistic hopes the first lunar voyage might be attempted in 1968.

Here, NASA, the Public Health Service and the Atomic Energy Commission will team to decide when an all-clear can be declared.

A 50-foot-deep basement with 3-foot concrete walls has been built for the AEC radiation studies on men and machine.

This cautious association with the moon crew under any other circumstances might seem downright impolite, and begins the minute the spaceship hits the water, home from an eight-day journey.

For instance, when frogmen leap into the ocean to help the astronauts and attach a flotation collar to keep the spacecraft from sinking, they first leave three protective isolation suits in a small raft beside the craft and swim away.

These rescuers normally chat freely with returning spacemen, and often are the first earthlings to touch them. Not this time. The rule of the moment will be: "Assist the flight crew (astronauts) only if needed; otherwise move some distance away until the crew dons the biological isolation suits."

Officials are not concerned that the outside surface of the Apollo moonship might be contaminated, figuring that the searing, 6,000-degree heat of re-entry to earth's atmosphere would burn away any foreign particles, or organisms.

while the outside may be burned clean, the inside remained a comfortable temperature. Therefore, once plucked out of the water, no one goes inside the vehicle except one of the astronauts, who slips in to get the lunar samples and other selected items.

Although the lunar landing flight plan calls for only two members of the three-man crew to descend to the moon's surface in a small excursion vehicle, all three will face the rigid quarantine.

How a growing research investment is creating job opportunities in Illinois

These men are testing ride characteristics of earthmoving machines that haven't even been built! Their research will mean greater safety, comfort and efficiency for men who operate heavy equipment in the years ahead.

Their success in developing new and better products has a pay-off in higher sales, steadier payrolls... and expanding job opportunities for Illinois men and women.

Research like this is part of a growing, multi-million-dollar investment Caterpillar Tractor Co. makes to improve existing machines—and design wholly new models. In 1965, that investment in research and engineering reached a record $57.5 million.

Today, Caterpillar's research and engineering programs involve the efforts of 3,300 improvement-minded people. These highly creative men and women work in a modern Technical Center near Peoria, at two proving grounds covering a total of over 10,000 acres, in field research assignments, and in engineering departments at five Illinois plants as well as other locations around the world.

A long tradition of technical emphasis and achievement is a major reason Caterpillar, the state's largest private employer, is adding some 3,500 people to its Illinois payrolls this year.

To people, this kind of growth means more than "jobs." It means opportunity for a satisfying career with good pay—and additional opportunities for advancement. More than 16,000 Illinois men and women have been with Caterpillar from 10 to 25 years... nearly 3,400 have over 25 years of service.

If you're looking for a career opportunity with a growing company, contact the Employment Office at the Caterpillar plant nearest you.

Ho, For The Sesquicentennial!

Illinois was admitted to the Union Dec. 3, 1818.

Today, in all the 102 counties of the state, committees are beginning projects to suitably celebrate its 150th birthday anniversary.

Under the leadership of the board of county commissioners Morgan county is organizing to take its role in the celebration, which will begin December 3 of next year and run through Dec. 4, 1968.

Dr. Frank B. Norbury, 1138 W. College avenue, has consented to head the Morgan county committee. He is shown seated at left, with his appointed secretary-treasurer, County Superintendent of Schools Wilfrid E. Rice.

A. John Pearson, public relations director of Illinois College, has consented to serve as vice chairman.

Shown in the rear of the photo are the commissioners, F. Byron Smith, Chester A. Thomason and Harry E. Thompson. These three men have devoted much time in launching the sesquicentennial program.

The full scope of activities has not been determined.

"This will be the function of the steering committee," the chairman says. "This committee will be appointed soon and we can make our plans. There have been many fine suggestions offered thus far, but it will require the combined efforts of many of the county's finest men and women to carry them to completion successfully."

Dr. Norbury has long been interested in history, particularly in certain segments of medical history. He is a member of the Morgan County Historical society and Pearson is the society's secretary-treasurer.

Among the infantry knapsacks now in use in Europe, the lightest, when packed with a field kit, is that of the Austrian army, weighing ten pounds; the heaviest, the English, weighing fifteen pounds. But when to this is added the weight of arms, accoutrements, clothing and provisions, the total carried by a foot soldier of each nation is as follows: Austria, 51 pounds; England, 54 pounds; France, 55 pounds; Prussia, 56 pounds; Russia, 71 pounds.

One hundred and fifty women are said to be employed as masons and hod-carriers on the new Opera House in Vienna.

When Rothschild went to the Prussian General to remonstrate against the contribution demanded of Frankfurt, the general answered that he would surround the city and bombard it if necessary. To this Rothschild replied, "Then I shall bombard the Bank of Prussia. I believe your Excellency can judge of the range of your rifled cannon, but not the financial power of the house of Rothschild. You see this portfolio which I contain bills for sixty millions of dollars for the Rhine provinces and Westphalia. It is in my power to ruin the trade of those provinces." The General wisely saved his powder and turned the matter over to the Prussian Assembly, which body reduced Frankfurt's contribution by ninety per centum.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel:

The new soldier's bounty law recently enacted by the Congress provides for the following pensions: For total disability so as to be helpless, $25 per month; for loss of both feet, or one hand and one foot, $10 per month; for loss of one hand, or one foot, $5 per month; to the widow, for each child under 15 years of age, $1 a month.

CONSERVATIVE MASS MEETING—Col. T. Lyle Dickey, the conservative Democratic candidate for Congress for the state at large, will address the people of Morgan in the court house square, Friday next, at 2 o'clock, P.M., on the political issues. The ladies are invited to turn out and hear this high-toned orator.

The ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the Douglas monument came off at Chicago on last Thursday, in the presence of the President of the United States, a number of generals of the Army and chief officers of the Navy. It was a worthy tribute to the greatest statesman of his day and age.

The Eating House on the south side of the square, next door to the east corner, is prepared to furnish high class refreshments at all hours. Particular attention paid to strangers, especially during the fair. When you negotiate for a house having all the modern improvements, you will generally find that a mortgage is one of them.

From the Carrollton Gazette: The editor of the Gazette being afflicted with the chills this week may account for a lack of local items.

We hold that the truth wrongs nobody and that false reports are best corrected and contradicted by PLAIN TRUTH. Since the cholera has been in our midst the deaths total to date is 15. Rumor had it as many as 20 souls were taken away every day, but that is far from the truth, as we append the names of the deceased directly below.

It is an observable fact that during the sickness that has prevailed in our midst for some weeks past there has been an unusual amount of rain, and water, after standing in pools a few hours would, from an impure state of the atmosphere, turn quite green on its surface.

HUMORS of the day

September, 1866

"Master," said the clown of a circus, "what is the difference between occupation and business?"

"Difference? There is none." "Oh, yes, there is," said the clown. "I'll give you an instance: Maximilian taking possession of Mexico is an occupation, isn't it?"

"Yes."

"Well, he hasn't any business there, has he?"

"Do you think I'll get justice done here?" said a culprit to his counsel.

"I don't think you will," replied the other, "for I see two men on the jury who are opposed to hanging."

If some men had their legs broken they would be crippled for life; their bones would be too lazy to knit.

DOMESTIC

September, 1866
A queer genius lately appeared before Justice Cuthbertson, of Chicago, accused himself of assault and battery, and demanded to be arrested and fined — the judge finally accommodating him by fining him five dollars. The joke of the affair has not yet been told, however; that the repentant criminal paid with a ten dollar bill, which the clerk changed, giving him five dollars in good money, to find, after he was gone, that the ten dollar was a counterfeit, and that the conscientious man had cleared five dollars!

Dr. Collins, of Cincinnati, who wrote an elaborate treatise on the cholera, proving that it could easily be cured, died the other day of the disease — not the only case that can be called to mind of the ease of theory and the difficulty of practice.

The harbor of Galveston, Texas, is said to be fast closing up with sand, the former draught of twenty feet at the bar having been reduced to eight or ten. Whether the blockade has been the cause of this (as alleged to have been in Charleston) is not understood. The once famous "Ellsworth Zouaves" of Chicago, are fast running down. The organization now numbers only fifty members. They have suffered the usual fate of inactive militia in war time and soon after that's all. The New York Militia will find themselves in the same position, at no distant day, if new life and energy is not infused into them by a domestic broil or some other public calamity.

The discovery of tin, in large quantities, in the Dutch East Indies, has so reduced prices that the Cornwall mines of England can no longer be worked at a profit. Machinery recently put up at a cost of fifty thousand dollars has been sold for four thousand dollars. Seventy-eight mines have been wound up compulsorily, and twenty miners thrown out of employment. Now perhaps the exorbitant price we have been assessed for tinware will decline to more prudent levels.

SMOTHERED: A group of Jacksonville defenders smother Decatur Eisenhower's Nick Green for no gain during the Crimsons' 7-6 victory Friday night. This type of gang tackling was typical of the Jacks' strong defense during the contest. Visible for the Crimsons are John Mathews (15), Gerald Stewart (70) and Harry Gollier (33).

Attempts Theft Next To Police Station, Caught

A 22-year-old Beardstown man was taken into custody Friday night by police here, after he was apprehended by a local citizen following the theft of three hub caps.

City police identified the man as James W. Hudson, 22, of Beardstown, who is charged with theft.

Officers said that Hudson was seen by Alderman Bill Yording reportedly taking the hub caps from his car, while it was parked in a lot next to the police station.

Yording yelled at the man, who fled from the scene on foot down East College. Yording followed, and the suspect ran into a backyard in the 200 block of East College.

There a resident, who was standing in the backyard and heard Yording yelling, spotted the man identified as Hudson. Hudson allegedly ran toward the street, and the resident ran through his house and out onto the street where he stopped Hudson.

Police said the incident occurred about 9:30 p.m.

ISD Fifth School To Offer Diploma

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois School for the Deaf in Jacksonville has become the fifth school for the deaf in the nation to offer a fully accredited high school program, it was announced Friday.

The accreditation, recently granted by the state school superintendent, followed a three-year effort to upgrade the ISD high school program, the state department of children and family services said.

Six new teachers have been added to the staff, bringing the total to 14 in academic fields, 10 in industrial arts and 4 in physical education. There are 451 students enrolled at ISD.

Dr. Kenneth Mangan said that out of the total enrollment, there are 150 enrolled in the high school courses at ISD.

He said that pupils who complete the high school program receive a diploma, recognized as comparable to any other state public high school.

The four other schools are located in California and at White Plains and Rochester, N.Y.

Schaeffer Family Sells Beardstown Illinoian-Star

BEARDSTOWN — The sale of the Beardstown daily newspaper, The Illinoian-Star to Robert (Woody) Sudbrink was announced here Friday.

A four-column advertisement on page two of the September 16 edition said the newspaper plant and job printing department complete would be transferred as of October 1.

The sale of the business ends more than half a century of publication here by the Schaeffer family.

Mrs. L. G. Schaeffer and her daughters Miss Helen Schaeffer and Mrs. W. H. Rodgers have been operating the plant since the death of the publisher, L. G. Schaeffer, former Beardstown postmaster.

Sudbrink, the new publisher, is a lifelong resident here, and has lately acquired several radio stations in addition to WRMS, Beardstown's 500 Watt station.

Sudbrink, a University of Illinois graduate, also runs the Sudbrink Insurance and real estate agency here.

He developed the Sudbrink addition, which is a section of new homes in the southern part of town.

Waverly Romps Over Bluffs 20-0

BLUFFS — Pat Cray's 40-yard punt return by Max Dunseth carried the Waverly Scots to a 20-0 whitewash over the local Bluffs Bluejays unit here Friday night in a non-conference battle.

Both long jaunts came in the first half, while Dunseth's passing aim set up the victor's final tally of the night in the final quarter to complete the romp.

Led by the strong work of Rodney Ball, Waverly's defense held the Bluejays throughout the contest, yielding only once in the third period. The locals moved to the Scots' 10 yard line in their only deep penetration, but had to give up the ball on downs.

Dunseth passes to Greg Jackson and Steve Timmons set up the Scots' final score, with Jeff McIntire carrying it in from the two. Dunseth also connected with Jackson and Timmons to account for Waverly's two PAT tallies.

Score by quarters:
Waverly 6 7 0 7—20

BURGLARS STRIP RIVER COTTAGE OF FURNISHINGS

BEARDSTOWN — Ivan Cox, 1309 State street, local oil company agent, said Friday his new cottage on the banks of the Illinois river just beyond the railroad bridge, had been broken into and about $250 worth of furnishings taken.

Cox only recently completed the one room, frame building and said he had stayed in it only twice.

Listed as stolen were folding chairs, a folding lounge, bunk beds, radio, an air mattress, several kerosene and electric lanterns, five blankets and other property.

A tent and a boat heater were also taken from the boat dock, Cox said.

"They just cleaned me out," said Cox, who added that no damage was done to the building.

The 16x26 cabin was built by Reiler and Son on a 12 deck and will withstand 25 feet of water in the river. It is located on the upper end of the old Riverview park.

While Cox has the only cabin in the area now, Bud Logsdon has started building one.

BEARDSTOWN MAN HURT IN FALL FROM BOX CAR

BEARDSTOWN — A C B & Q brakeman, John Hackman of Beardstown was taken to Schmitt Memorial hospital Thursday by ambulance from Mexico, Mo., where he was hurt Wednesday afternoon.

Hackman, a son-in-law of Mrs. J. W. Lawler, suffered three broken ribs, a head injury and cuts and bruises when he was knocked from a railroad car while at work.

It was raining at the time of the accident and Hackman was riding the side of a moving car. He said he turned his head due to the rain as he swung from the step and hand rails, and struck another railcar on a siding.

He was knocked from his position but was clear of the moving train.

Hackman's wife, the former Hannah Peters, and the injured man's father, Bud Hackman of Arenzville, went to Mexico the day of the accident and decided to bring John to the local hospital, where he will be a patient for an undetermined time.

Hackman had been working in Mexico for several weeks as an extra.

from ages 18 and over. Prepare now for U.S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months. Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience. But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government. For FREE booklet on Government jobs, including list of positions and salaries, fill out coupon and mail at once — TODAY.

You will also get full details on how you can prepare yourself for these tests.
